LINERS ESCAPE LARGE ICEBERG

Mauretania and Adriatic in Dangerous Proximity to Giant Floes in Atlantic

DISCOVERED DURING FOG

Fog Lifted Disclosing Berg
Quarter Mile Ahead of Mauretania and Right in Path

NEW YORK, July 19.—Stories of ice so close that the frost was plainly discernible in the air, forcing the passengers to don heavy wraps, were brought here by the great liner Mauretania of the Cunard line, and the Adriatic of the White Star line today. Both vessels were in dangerous proximity to the ice, and reported that one of the bergs was more than 1,000 feet long and stood fifty feet out of the water. Memories of the Titanic's fate in almost the same latitude made the passengers uncomfortable, until they reached port.

The Mauretania came on the big berg while running through a fog Wednesday. Speed had been reduced to the lowest possible notch for the big liner. Captain Turner and his first officer were personally on the bridge while the lookouts had been alerted. The vessel slipped out of the fog just before it reached the ice-berg which was a quarter of a mile ahead and directly in its course.

The Mauretania was brought to a dead stop because of the danger of "growlers" and her course was changed directly to the southward. Captain Turner insisted, however, today that even had the fog not lifted he would have soon sighted the berg, and that there was never the slightest danger.

HOP FAMINE THREATENS

CHICAGO, July 19.—A famine in hops is threatened. This startling bit of news was given out today by representatives of the Association of Hop Growers who testified before Charles A. Prouty of the interstate commerce commission. The hop men say that beer makers were greatly discouraged at the excessive freight rates on hops from Pacific coast points to eastern cities, and that growers in large numbers were intending to devote their land to something more profitable.

RATS PLAGUE CARRIERS

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Telegrams to the United States public health service today indicate that there is still grave danger of the bubonic plague spreading in Porto Rico. Only one suspicious case was developed today, but an examination of rats shows that the rat infection percentage is 2.6 per cent. This is considered very high and means that over one out of every fifty rats is a plague carrier.

BETTY GREEN HURTS PROPERTY

CHICAGO, July 19.—Because Mrs. Betty Green, richest woman in America, owned the property adjoining his, Frank Higgins, obtained a reduction of $5.25 in his taxes today. Higgins told the county board of review that Mrs. Green refused to install sewers under her building, and as a result his building was undrained so that it had become lopsided, and its value was reduced.

TRIED TO SELL PATENT

SEATTLE, Wash., July 19.—Federal Judge Hanford's attempt to sell Frank Burpee, a patent on a salmon can toppler while Burpee had a case pending in Hanford's court was again investigated today by the Hanford congressional committee. At the time Hanford made his attempt, Burpee was defendant in a patent infringement suit in the federal court.

FIND STUDENT IN RIVER

BRIDGETON, N. Y., July 19.—Following the finding of the mutilated body of Herschel Ware, 19 years old, a sophomore at Swarthmore college, floating in the Maurice river, the New Jersey police are today facing one of the most baffling murder mysteries they have been called on to solve. The boy's head was crushed.

DOLLAR FOR TAFT FIGHT

WASHINGTON, July 19.—What is believed to be the first contribution to the Taft campaign fund—a dollar bill—enclosed in an envelope addressed to Secretary Hilges, by a country clergyman in New York state was received at the White House today.

REFUSE YUAN'S APPOINTEES

PEKIN, July 19.—The national assembly refused today to confirm any of President Yuan Shi Kai's new cabinet appointments. This leaves the premier alone in office, and as he considers such a situation impossible, he threatens to resign forthwith.

Automobile Raises Cost of Walking

CHICAGO, July 19.—The automobile, not content with putting the horse out of business, will on September 1st have another sin to answer for. The price of shoes is going up, according to local dealers, and the 20 per cent advance, may be laid directly to the gasoline gig. "The cost of leather has been increased 72 per cent," said one dealer today. "The automobile is one of the principal causes. It is astonishing how much leather is used in connection with one touring car. As the uses for leather increase, the supply of raw material is rapidly decreasing. The big cattle ranches west are being cut up into farms and the cultivation of cereals is taking the place of cattle raising."

PILGRIMAGE TO HOME OF YOUTH

Former Resident of La Crosse, Now President of Erie Road, Visits Old Homestead

KNOWN TO OLD RESIDENTS

While He Lived in La
Crosse Years Ago Railroad Magnate was Conductor on Milwaukee

United Press dispatches from Milwaukee carry a story of interest to older residents of La Crosse concerning Frederick D. Underwood, now president of the Erie railroad, who was formerly a resident of this city a score of years ago. Mr. Underwood was a conductor on the Milwaukee road. The dispatch follows:

MILWAUKEE, July 19.—Frederick D. Underwood, president of the Erie railroad, today sat in a quaint arm chair in the old homestead where he was born in Wauwatosa, a suburb, and dictated answers to a pile of telegrams and queries which lay on the red and white cotton cloth that covered the table.

"Nearby was a kerosene lamp. In the room where his mother crooned him to sleep years ago, the man who worked up from the position as railroad brakeman and engineer to the president of the Erie road, would muse for a moment while looking at the rag carpeted floor and then go on dictating to a telegraph operator, whose touch clicked sounds directly into the New York offices of the Erie. Underwood is on his annual pilgrimage to the old homestead. The only missing factor to disrupt his boyhood memories is the absence of the father and mother. Their memory lingers strong in the little white house with green blinds, however, and Frederick D. Underwood has preserved this memory as sacred. The little old homestead is no different now than the days when he came barefooted from school years ago.

"Surrounding the old home, however, all in changed. Money has wrought beauty. Rose gardens, tropical plants, vine covered arbors and greenhouses literally filled with foliage and blooming beauty grace the several acres of ground surrounded by a stone wall to keep from his view the idle and curious.

"With seven servants he brought from New York, a private secretary and telegraph operator, the little old homestead is the shrine of worship and from today forward for two weeks the destinies of the Erie road will be worked out from the little room where its president can look at the round framed likeness of his parents on the wall and drift back to the days of his youth."

WIRES HALT FIREMEN

$300,000 FIRE IN BLUEFIELD, W.
VA. DESTROYS SIX BUILD-INGS IN WHOLESALE DIS-TRICT, HAMPER FIGHTERS

BLUEFIELDS, W. Va., July 19.—The entire fire fighting force of Bluefield fought desperately through a network of live electric wires today to save the wholesale district, threatened by fire which destroyed half a dozen buildings before it could be controlled.

The loss was estimated at $300,000, partly covered by insurance. The cause was not determined. The firemen were also handicapped by precaution against the explosion of a tank car filled with gasoline which had been sidetracked on the Norfolk & Western road in the heart of the burned district.

REDUCE BORDER GUARD

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Due to the defeat of the Mexican revolutionary movement by Madero and acute danger at the border now being regarded as past, the war department today decided to withdraw many of the troops, which have their headquarters in El Paso.

WATER LINE IS DRAWN IN CASE

Baldwin Decides La Crosse
County Court Has No Jurisdiction in Assault Case

BOUNDARY QUESTION IS UP

West Channel Immune
From Wisconsin Authority, Is the Ruling

Another phase of the Wisconsin boundary question was brought out this morning when Albert J. Bates was arraigned before Acting County Judge C. L. Baldwin charged with having committed an assault while on part of the Mississippi river.

The defense made a motion to discharge the defendant as the Wisconsin court had no jurisdiction except on the Mississippi river and he asserted that the assault, if there was any, had taken place in West Channel. The decision hinged upon the question of where West Channel ends. If the channel ends at a line drawn diagonal to the Mississippi river at the lower extremity of Barron's island, the assault took place in West channel and the Wisconsin court has no jurisdiction. The court held that it was powerless to act as the assault occurred outside of Wisconsin jurisdiction and the case was dismissed.

According to the testimony of witnesses called prior to the arguments, Albert J. Bates made an attack upon Edw. Palubitski, Leo Petrick and Frank Petaska while they were rowing in a boat below Barron's island and recently. Bates declares his attack was caused by the young men using obscene language before several girls near his camp.

He is alleged to have pursued them in another boat and to have beaten them over the head in a brutal manner with an oar. The plaintiffs are said to have been intoxicated at the time and unable to defend themselves.

LORIMER MOTORS HOME

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Having settled his affairs in Washington, William Lorimer of Illinois, started today on an automobile trip toward home scenes in Chicago. He was accompanied by William J. Cooke, one of his staunch political lieutenants.

ADMITS HER MISTAKE

WOMAN OPERATOR SAYS IF SHE HAD NOT MISINTERPRETED MESSAGE WRECK WOULD NOT HAVE BEEN

CHICAGO, July 19.—Mrs. F. A. Wilcox, tower operator for the Burlington railroad, at Western Springs, where the Overland limited was wrecked and thirteen persons killed, will resume her testimony before Coroner Hoffman, when the official continues his investigation. Fifteen other witnesses will be examined by the coroner before the responsibility for the wreck can be placed.

Mrs. Wilcox surprised the officers of the railroad who have absolved her from blame for the wreck when she told the coroner that she misunderstood a telephone message from the Congress Park operator, and finally admitted after a lengthy word duel with Hoffman, that the wreck would not have happened if she had interpreted the message properly.

When Mrs. Wilcox continues her testimony the coroner will ask her about her having been an inmate of the Dunning hospital for the insane.

CAN'T PROSECUTE PLOTTERS

CHICAGO, July 19.—Federal authorities today announced that they had no power to prosecute the alleged plotters against Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester company. The United States, they said, could take no notice of the suit of J. C. Henning, charging alienation of Mrs. Henning's affections which was declared unfounded by a county court here.

Guardian Chases Rich Youth to Hong Kong

HONG KONG, July 19.—Hector Fuller, ex-war correspondent, who has for weeks been trailing Gordon Lawrence Mott, Jr., heir to the millions left by his grandfather, founder of the Mott Iron works of New York, overtook the latter today. Fuller was engaged at a high salary as a kind of guardian for Mott, but the latter gave him the slip some time ago and shipped from New York as pursuer on the tramp steamship Indradeo, bound for China, May 18. On the same boat there sailed, booked as stewardess, to evade the anti-passenger carrying law, an actress to whom it was believed Mott was attached.

The former war correspondent gave chase, and arrived at successive ports in the Mediterranean, the Red sea and the Indian ocean only a few hours behind his quarry. It is uncertain, however, what he can do with his man now that he has caught him. Mott says he is going to settle in Japan.

DEMOCRATS VOTE TO OUST CATLIN

House Committee on Elections Votes Six to Three to Unseat Missouri
Congressman

SEAT DEMOCRAT OPPONENT

Patrick F. Gill Is Picked for the Seat; Claim Is Made that $13,000
Was Spent

WASHINGTON, July 19.—By a strict party vote of six to three, the election to the house of representatives of Theron E. Catlin, a republican from the Eleventh St. Louis district, was declared void today by the house elections committee No. 2. Excessive use of money in his campaign was the reason assigned. The committee voted to give Catlin's seat to Patrick F. Gill, Catlin's democratic opponent.

Catlin is 34 years of age, and is serving his first term in the house. He is prominent in Washington and St. Louis society, the son of a millionaire tobacco manufacturer. His engagement to a Washington society belle was announced last week. Chairman Hamill of the elections committee, will write the report recommending to the house that Catlin be ousted. The contest will be decided before conclusion of the present session.

The six democrats of the committee, Hamilton, N. J.; Corbly of Indiana; Broussard of Louisiana; Linthicum of Maryland; Jacoway of Arkansas, and Allen of Ohio, voted to unseat Catlin. The three republicans, Switzer of Ohio; Anderson of Minnesota, and Nelson of Wisconsin, voted in his favor.

On motion to seat Gill in Catlin's place, Allen withheld his vote to await Hamill's report, but the other five democrats voted for Gill, the republicans being lined up against Catlin's contestant.

That Catlin's father spent more than $13,000 to secure the election of his son, was charged before the committee. Catlin professed ignorance of money being used in his campaign, declaring he spent only $550 personally.

The committee postponed action on the contest to unseat Representative Dyer, another republican from St. Louis.

ragette Leaders

PREMIER IS BILLED TO SPEAK

English Women Follow
Him to Dublin and Start
Attempts to Terrorize
by Violence

DUBLIN, July 19.—When eight suffragettes were arrested here today charged with complicity in last night's attempt to burn the Theater Royal, where Premier Asquith is to speak this evening, a search of their lodging revealed a store of gunpowder, petroleum and other inflammables.

The discovery that explosives are now included among the suffragettes' weapons has given the authorities a violent shock. A rigorous investigation is being conducted to determine whether it was planned to blow up rather than to burn the theater, and if the women under arrest were acting independently or have an organization behind them.

The prisoners are English and it is believed they came here for the deliberate purpose of marking the premier's visit by an unprecedented demonstration of suffragette violence. The identity of the woman who threw a blazing chair from a box, and set fire to a curtain in the Theater Royal has not yet been learned, but the police are sure it was one of the eight under arrest. They also think it likely that it was one of them who threw a hatchet at the premier as he was driving through Princess street to the Gresham Hotel just after his arrival.

Both the hotel and theater were under heavy guard today and the premier did not stir from his room except when surrounded by detectives.

The precautions it is deemed necessary to take are interfering seriously with the pleasure of his visit. It is feared, however, that any relaxation of vigilance would be followed by loss of life, the suffragettes evidently having passed the point where petty violence satisfies them and resorted to genuine terrorism.

CANDIDATES ARE OUT

DEMOCRATIC AND REPUBLICAN
OFFICE SEEKERS CIRCULATE
NOMINATION PAPERS; NO
DEMOCRAT FOR CONGRESS

The nomination papers of democratic candidates for places on the state ticket were sent out for circulation by the state central committee today. According to the action taken at the county conventions before the state meeting, four men have been appointed in each precinct in the state to circulate the papers.

Nearly all of the republican candidates for office on the state and county tickets have been busy for the last week circulating their nomination papers. It is expected that there will be a full ticket in the field on both sides before August 2 when the papers must be filed with the county clerks.

Up to date there is only one place for which no one seems anxious to run on the democratic ticket and that is for congress from the Seventh district. Although W. F. Coffland of Viroqua and Evan Evans of Baraboo have been urged to get into the race neither one has evinced any great enthusiasm over the prospect of becoming a candidate. Mr. Coffland in fact has absolutely refused to consider the matter and it is doubtful that Mr. Evans will enter the fight.

MONTENEGRO AFTER TURKEY

VIENNA, July 19.—Montenegro is reported mobilizing several thousand troops today in retaliation for a Turkish invasion of its territory, and the alleged murder of several Montenegrins.

Taft Pardons Grocer, Counterfeiter and Judge

WASHINGTON, July 19.—President Taft today took mercy on a grocer, a counterfeiter and a justice of the peace. The grocer is E. D. Bercu, convicted of the unlawful sale of oleomargarine. He was fined $1,000 after pleading guilty. Taft remitted the fine.

The counterfeiter is John G. Wabber, serving the last year of an eight year sentence at McNeil Island penitentiary, near Seattle. He is over 70 years of age, and the president thought he had served long enough.

The justice of the peace is A. G. Harkinson of Charleston, Va., convicted of unlawfully charging more than $25 for obtaining a pension. The president remitted his fine.

ROOT TO BE TAFT LEADER

New Yorker to Be Chief of Defense in Senate;
Barthold to Be
House Champion

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Republican leaders of the senate and house are girding on their armor for one of the most bitter political fights ever staged on the floor of congress, to defend the legality of President Taft's nomination at Chicago.

Progressive republicans got wind of the Taft scheme today and hurriedly held conferences for a counter attack, promising the unique spectacle in both houses of congress, of a congressional debate on the "alleged fraud" of Taft's renomination. The whole Chicago convention promises to be re-fought in a tempest of partisanship, with the democrats as applauding spectators of both Taft and Roosevelt adherents.

Root for Taft
Senator Root of New York, is scheduled to be Taft's chief spokesman in the senate.

Representative Barthold of Missouri and Representative Mondell of Wyoming, will defend the president in the house. Their speeches are planned for the latter part of next week, but may be delayed until just before adjournment.

"We progressives are going to have our say if any such scheme is tried out by the Taft crowd," it was declared today by Representative Norris, the Nebraska progressive. "I am going to insist for one, on being heard in reply to the Taft speakers and will go into the illegal frauds which resulted in Taft's so-called victory."

Other progressives of the house may rally to Norris' aid and provoke a riotous renewal of the Taft-Roosevelt feud at Chicago.

Crane to Speak

In the senate it is reported that Senator Murray Crane of Massachusetts, also a member of the national committee, not only will speak himself, but will lend aid to Senator Root. For Roosevelt, Clapp of Minnesota and Cummins of Iowa are reported to be preparing speeches to define Roosevelt's fraud charges. Speeches of all the Taft and Roosevelt champions by presentation on the floor of congress will become documents for general free circulation.

TAFT ADVISORS MEET

BOARD OF STRATEGY FOR PRES-IDENT'S CAMPAIGN MEETS TO-DAY IN NEW YORK TO DIS-CUSS PLANS

NEW YORK, July 19.—When the sub-committee of the national republican committee went into conference at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel today to pick the advisory committee, the executive committee, and the treasurer, it was admitted that one of the chief tasks would be to get men who would be able to raise the necessary funds for running the campaign. The advisory committee is to have complete charge of the fight to re-elect President Taft.

After a three hours session behind closed doors, the sub-committee took a recess and went to the rooms of the national committee in the Times building. It was stated by the members that all that had been accomplished was to have a formal discussion of the situation and of the various names suggested for membership on the committee.

Judge Is Given Till July 29
to Prepare His Defense
Against the House
Charges

SENATE WOULD HURRY CASE

Upper House Desires to End Impeachment Proceedings Before End of Session

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Sitting as a high court of impeachment, the senate this afternoon allowed Judge W. Archbald of the commerce court until July 29 to prepare his defense against the grave charges formulated by the house. There were indications that the senate desired to push the trial, and complete its work in the case before adjournment of the present session.

The house "prosecutors" were given until August 3 in which to submit their reply to Archbald's defense. Attorney A. S. Worthington, Archbald's counsel, formally stated that his client would plead "not guilty."

Starts at 12:30

It was exactly 12:30 when the senate resolved itself into an impeachment court, and sent word to the house that it was ready to proceed. A few minutes later the house "prosecutors" took their places on chairs reserved for them directly in front of the vice president's rostrum. Judge Archbald and his counsel, A. S. Worthington, had places opposite them, to the right of the main aisle.

Carrying out the etiquette of such a formal occasion, the sergeant-at-arms acted as bailiff to recite the ancient warning against the galleries making any demonstration.

Following the customary formula, the sergeant at arms shouted Archbald's name thrice. The judge squirmed uneasily in his seat, and leaned forward as if to arise, but finally settled back. His counsel arose, and announced Archbald's presence at the bar. He offered a written answer, which was read by the clerk, and which asked for a reasonable time in which the judge might formulate his defense.

Senator Clark of Wyoming moved that the judge submit his reply to the charges on July 24. After some discussion the date was finally changed to July 29, and the order adopted. Attorney Worthington objected to the brief time allowed. He requested at least twenty days and explained that one of Archbald's counsel was ill.

Five Days Ample

Representative Clayton said the managers had agreed that four or five days would be ample for purposes of preparation. The matter had been fully sifted, he said, before the judiciary committee of the house.

Three attorneys were present in addition to Judge Archbald. They were at all times in close touch with the case.

On his statement the senate named August 3 as the limit of time in which all pleadings in the case including the replication by the house managers, should be presented to the court.

No "Dull" Season for the Alert Advertiser

From "JUDICIOUS ADVERTISING."

THE MERCHANT who recognizes a dull season, who stops advertising and weakens his force, is deliberately tying one hand behind him. The chief benefit to be derived from advertising is to be traced to the familiarity of the advertisement.

You do not need a certain article today, nor perhaps in six months. But sooner or later the need asserts itself, and then you permit your eyes to do a little "reminiscing." And your eyes faithfully bring before you the antique lettering, the bold-face name, the pictorial appeal, the apt phrase, which have been crossing your vision day after day in the advertisements.

THE MERCHANT WHO RECOGNIZES THE DULL SEASON IS LIKE A SOLDIER who throws his ammunition away between engagements. Only, in the mercantile world there need be no time between engagements. The merchant whose ammunition is ready can locate an army of buyers at any moment.

COMMERCE BOARD ATTACKS TRUST

Interstate Commission to Investigate Connection Between Railroads
and Steel Combine

WASHINGTON, July 19.—In an order issued by the interstate commerce commission, announcing an investigation of the rates, practices and rules governing transportation of iron ore, cement, iron and steel, Uncle Sam today opened another attack on the steel trust. While the commission's order does not name the steel corporation, it was pointed out that the "trust" is concerned largely in the manufacture, through its own plants of the products mentioned, and in addition is alleged to have an interest in carriers transporting the commodities.

The order is taken to be a direct blow at the much investigated combine, particularly in view of the fact announced in the outline of the investigation that it included a probe to ascertain whether any common carriers have interest in the iron ore or steel products they transport, by stock ownership or otherwise.

About 300 railroads were named in the commission's order as respondents in the inquiry.

It is believed the department of justice is interested in the information which the commission hopes to get and it may have some bearing on the government suit for the dissolution of the trust.

RAPS POWDER AND PERFUME AT PLAY

BERLIN, July 19.—A movement has been started in Berlin against "powder and perfume" in theaters. One publication says some of the feminine theater and opera goers powder so heavily that it causes the masculine part of the audience to constantly sneeze, "which is very annoying as well as disturbing." What the powder fails to do in making the theater and opera going unpleasant, "perfume" finishes, "many women using so much that it's suffocating to sit next to them," says the sheet.

JILTED; SHOOTS GIRL

STENOGRAPHER WHO REFUSES TO ELOPE WITH MARRIED
MAN, IS SHOT DOWN
BY HER LOVER

DENVER, Colo., July 19.—Her body pierced by four revolver bullets, pretty 19-year-old Georgiana Lichenwalter is dying today at St. Luke's hospital because she spurned the love of Eugene Miller and refused to elope with him when she found out he was married. The police have been unable to find Miller.

Miss Lichenwalter is a stenographer in the employment bureau of the Young Men's Christian association. Miller is also a stenographer and had been paying attentions to her for some time.

Late last night persons living in the vicinity of the scene of the tragedy heard two shots, followed by two more with an interval between each. Running to the spot they found the girl crumpled up in a heap in a vacant lot beside a pathway. She retained sufficient strength to tell who shot her.

COLONEL DECLARES NATION
SHOULD USE PANAMA CANAL
MACHINERY TO DIG LAKES-TO GULF WATERWAY

CHICAGO, July 19.—In a letter to Laverne W. Noyes of this city, Colonel Roosevelt declared himself averse to the plan of Illinois to undertake the construction of a lake-to-gulf waterway. He believes this a task which should be taken up by the nation.

"There is no need," wrote the colonel, "for the people of Illinois to pay $20,000,000 or any part of it in an individual attempt to secure a deep waterway from the lakes to the gulf. It is an interstate matter."

"Only by a new party, in which all, north as well as south, join on equal terms, can the needed social and industrial tasks demanded by our people be successfully undertaken. One of the greatest of these tasks is the development of the Mississippi."

Colonel Roosevelt suggests the use of the Panama canal machinery in constructing the waterway.

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse, but you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Castoria causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

THE TALE OF THE BALTIMORE FIGHT

(From The Public)

If any person pretending to the possession of knowledge gives it out orally that in the late fracas at Baltimore, Md., William Jennings Bryan was run over by a steam roller, had his tall feathers pulled out or lost hold on the party, bet him a million dollars in pennies that he is full brother to the monkey of the jungles. It is true, possibly, that William lost the consideration and respect of certain politicians whose little game he blocked most beautifully, but it is not true that he lost anything else. And do not let any one, however high his brow may be, get away with the story that the bosses ran the convention. That is one of Hon. Theodore Roosevelt's hallucinations.

The politicians were like the celebrated pack of fox-hounds that a misguided man imported into a country infested with wolves. He took them out for a trial run and they disappeared in the timber. Whipping up, he followed the trail until he came to a cabin by the roadside in front of which sat a man with sandy chin-whiskers, who was meditatively smoking a corn-cob pipe.

"Neighbor," said the foxhunter, "did you see anything of a pack of dogs around here?"

The smoker nodded.

"How were they doing?" asked the owner, with pardonable pride.

"Wa-al, it appeared to me they were a little bit ahead of the wolf," was the answer. And that's the way the bosses won at Baltimore. They nominated Governor Woodrow Wilson—after Bryan was through with the job. The houn' dawgs, the Tammany Tiger and all the other foreloping animals of politics were the fox-hounds, and the Nebraskan was the wolf of the story.

The gentleman from Lincoln out-manuevered the whole crowd of them. Like a first-class checker player, every time he lost a "man" he jumped two of their pieces and landed in the king row. When they started they had a majority of the convention, they had the machinery, the money, the crowds and the claque. When they finished he had everything they began with except the money. So deftly did he work his plays that all the money outside the United States Treasury couldn't have bought the nomination for one of the Twelve Apostles. The convention was clean in that respect, and he made it so. The gathering may have been noisy and rough at times, but it was on the level. His opponents fought hard, but he fought harder, and while they may be sore over his triumph, they certainly were impressed with his prowess.

the game began, and they weren't aware of what he was holding. They thought he was a candidate for President—and he let them think so! To smoke him out they put up Judge Alton B. Parker for chairman and chuckled. The Nebraskan sought out a private room and did a high-land fling in exceeding great joy. He had them. Reappearing with a face that resembled that of an undertaker at a $500 funeral, he appeared to be very much concerned for the safety of the Republic. In the language of the sporting world, they fell for it, and fell hard.

"Here's where we hang the binger on Bill," they chortled as they proceeded to push Parker over the line. Right then and there he won the game.

Inside of an hour the country was ringing with his declaration that the predatory interests were endeavoring to seize the high parliament of the Democracy and sell it into bondage to Wall street. Daringly enough, he singled out those two shocked persons, Thomas Fortune Ryan and August Belmont and used them as Exhibits A and B, respectively, to prove that the money devil and his imps were there in their proper persons. They were merely modest delegates, but William had them on exhibition in an entirely different guise. Inside of 12 hours the telegraph companies began to reap a golden harvest from the frightened Democrats "back home," who sent messages to their chosen representatives to resist with all their power this fiendish attempt to throttle liberty. If they couldn't see their way clear to do this, the messages said, they were requested to remain in Baltimore the rest of their days or run the risk of being tarred and feathered and carried on a rail if they dared to show their faces in Cohosh or wheresoever they hailed from.

Just as they were breathing easier after the first batch of telegraphed indignation and peremptory orders, William delivered the second installment by offering his now memorable resolution, inviting Messrs. Ryan and Belmont to go away from there and pledging the party not to nominate any one who owed them money, marbles or chalk or who believed that they were otherwise than direct descendants of the Accuser of the Brethren. That finished them for all offensive purposes and then he landed the knockout or bacon-producing punch by leaving Hon. Champ Clark for having accepted the support of New York. They couldn't get away from his blows. Like the more or less punk pugilist who was receiver-general for a fine fusillade of wallops, "their feet stuttered." Hon. Champ fell exactly 1,000 feet and 6 inches straight down into oblivion, emitting loud cries as he whizzed bottomward. Now, Bryan was on to Clark's game for months and months. He was aware that there was a deal on right here in Ohio with the Harmon outfit which kept the Speaker's name off the preference primary ballot. The proof came when Clark came rushing over from Washington and in his rage demanded to know "why Ohio had not kept that agreement." What agreement? For an answer please address a postal card to the now closed Harmon headquarters here. Clark's action was water on his wheel. So was the blistering attack of John B. Stanchfield, of New York, referring to him as a lot of things that were extremely "un-nice." William simply smiled inscrutably. Inside the convention hall John B. was hailed as a hero. Outside of it he was regarded by the now raging rank and file as a demon with pronged horns, a cloven hoof and a long and prehensile tail. General result: More telegrams in bunches, baskets and bales.

After this it was a cakewalk. The bosses whose heads were not completely swathed in adipose tissue began to take counsel with themselves. They were hearing thunder and seeing lightning. If there is anything the politician despises and fears it is getting caught out in a shower of popular indignation. Up went the umbrellas one by one, and one by one the bosses began scooting for shelter.

Like the penitent thief on the cross they sent word to Bryan to remember them when he came "into his kingdom." On the exterior their cowardly natures were at work. "Bryan or Wilson" was the ultimatum that the people were sending, and their teeth were chattering lest the chances to act would get away. They saw to it that it did not. There was a fine "bunk" play over "releasing delegates from the obligations." That was the slapstick number on the program. The fact was that the delegates were releasing themselves, and doing it, doing it, doing it. Each boss, bosslet and bossikin was watching the other so that there shouldn't be any advantage gained hopping across the line. So all at once, on the forty-sixth ballot, Mr. Bryan, calmly fanning himself with an evening newspaper, watched with twinkling eyes the whole herd bolting through the gap in the fence he had opened. All the power of the bosses, all their tricks and all of their money had resulted in naught. One man with gumption and sand had whipped the entire gang. And that man laughed at them!

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Era Of Good Feeling.
This is the time that makes me glad, For now the season's here When friends are lightly to be had Who ooze good will and cheer. If your disposed my word to doubt— Its worth to understate— Just go ahead and single out The nearest candidate.

I oft, save in election year, Feel sorry for some chaps; Their memories, I try fear, Have had a woeful lapse. This man or that, he knows me not— Now, thanks to kindly fate, His memory is on the spot— Yes, he's a candidate.

Full many candidates I've met In mid-election heat, A wash with words; but never yet The one I'd like to meet. The way it now appears to me, Long, long I'm doomed to wait; But, oh, how I should like to see A candid candidate.

Of Course, She Knew.
The city girl, on her first vacation in the country, was sitting at the side of the first beau she had ever had, looking at the first full moon she had ever seen in a perfect clear sky.

"Billy," she squealed ecstatically, "how perfectly delightfully dear, and yet how horribly sweetly sad is the music of those toadstools, out there in the woods!"

"Why, darling," breathed William, who had been in the country before, once—"you can't mean 'toadstools.' The noise you hear is being made by crickets."

"Of course," answered the city girl—"you know what I mean. I get the names mixed up. I knew it was something to sit on!"

Bigger Job Waiting.
The first time that Florence Roberts, the actress, visited Seattle, after a skillful engineer had reduced the hills of that city to a regular surface by a method of hydraulic pressure, she exclaimed:

"Who must we thank for putting Seattle on the level?"

A proud native son gave Miss Roberts the name of the genius, whereupon the actress ejaculated:

"Well, he ought to start South right away—maybe he can put Frisco on the square."

A Practical Query.
My little boy stobed open mouthed while a friend elaborated the details of a sudden death. The patient had not been considered very seriously ill, and his nurse entered, bringing a baked potato for which the sick man had expressed a wish.

"But," said my friend, "before he had tasted it he died."

I deprecated the sadness of such recital before the child, but I need not have feared. His baby voice piped out:

"And what became of the potato?"

Solving The Old Problem.
When Sir Thomas Lipton was a small boy in Scotland he dropped into a church one Sunday morning and was put by himself in a pew directly in front of the minister, who preached a sermon on the text, "Am I My Brother's Keeper?"

The parson who was unusually eloquent, talked on this theme for about forty minutes, and finally worked up to the climax of his remarks. He kept his gaze fixed directly on little Lipton, who began to fidget and look very self-conscious. At last, after an overwhelming outpouring of long words, the minister, his eyes blazing, made a quick gesture and shouted at the boy:

"Am I my brother's keeper?"

Lipton could stand the strain no longer, and replied in a meek voice:

"No, sir."—Popular Magazine.

Renewed Jabe's Courage.
"Jabe Mathis," said General Longstreet, "of the Thirteen Georgia, was a good soldier, but one day, when the Confederates were retreating from the gory field of Gettysburg, Jabe threw his musket on the ground, seated himself by the roadside and exclaimed with vehemence: 'I'll be doggoned if I'll walk another step! I'm broke down. I can't do it.' And Jabe was the picture of despair."

"Get up, man," exclaimed the captain, "don't you know the Yankees are following us? They'll get you sure."

"Can't help it," said Jabe; "I'm done for; I'll not march another step!"

"The Confederates passed along over the crest of the hill and lost sight of poor, dejected Jabe. In a moment there was a fresh rattle of musketry and a renewed crash of shells. Suddenly Jabe appeared on the crest of the hill, moving with hurricane swiftness and followed by a cloud of dust. As he dashed by his captain that officer said:

"Hello, Jabe, thought you wasn't going to march any more?"

"Thunder!" replied Jabe, as he hit the dust with renewed vigor, "you don't call this marching, do you?"

—Kansas City Star.

Not Through Yet.
A certain company promoter once built a castle on a mountain peak. As he showed the gray, mediaeval looking pile to a friend, he said:

"I don't know what to call it. What name do you advise?"

"It looks like those Scotch castles in the Highlands," said the friend.

"Why not call it Dunrobin?"

"Dunrobin? Dunrobin? Yes, that would be a good name," said the millionaire; "only you see, I have no intention of retiring yet."

HEAT OFTEN TENDS TO MAKE WOMEN PALE AND WEAK

They Neglect Their Bowels and the Poisons Vitate the Blood

Hot weather has a very weakening effect on women. They become too languid to exercise and have appetite for light, tasty foods, like salads and other cold concoctions, which do not digest readily and tend to increase their natural tendency to constipation.

At this season women, especially, need all their strength to resist the enervating effect of the heat. Good digestion and regularity of the bowels are essential. Some fruits have laxative properties, but they are uncertain in their effect, and are not generally advised. A mild bowel stimulant and digestant, such as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is preferable because it is certain in its effect, natural in its action, and wholly safe. Take a dose of Syrup Pepsin at night and by morning the sick headache and indigestion will be gone.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold in drug stores everywhere, and costs fifty cents a bottle; a larger size, intended for family use, costs one dollar. If you have never used Syrup Pepsin and would like a free trial bottle, postpaid, write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 406 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

The Professor's Mystery

It seemed as if the train would never start. My two men came rushing up the stairs and, I think, omitted the formality of either purchasing or depositing tickets. They rushed to the gate of my car, I suppose, must have found it closed, for they turned and I lost sight of them running to the rear of the train. Whether they got on or not I could not at the moment be sure. But I was not to be left long in doubt, for as my train skirted the park and drew into Fifty-ninth Street, a sudden face peered in at the rear door of the car for a moment, and wolfish eyes meeting mine, was withdrawn as suddenly as it came. I had first intended going far up-town and doubling back by means of the subway; now, on a sudden impulse, as the brakes went on and we shuddered to a standstill, I got up quickly and made for the forward door, squeezing through the partly-opened gate, half running, half falling, down the long flight of stairs.

What I should have done, of course, was to turn in at the first decently lighted place I came to. It was through sheer stupidity that I did not; but it was not until the next day that I realized that already my address was known, that my very keeping of the rendezvous was an acknowledgment that I was "Mr. Tyler" of the Hotel Gloria. Now, in the excitement of flight and pursuit, I foolishly overlooked this obvious conclusion. I was anxious not to be followed home, and innocently supposed that I was making this a contest of speed and wits; so, like a silly hunted animal, I ran east through Fifty-ninth Street, dodging in and out of the groups of belated negroes, who make this block unpleasant at this hour, and cutting across Columbus Circle, hesitated for a moment at the subway entrance, then plunged fatuously into Central Park. The park seemed to me at the moment the ideal labyrinth in which to lose my pursuers.

Its lights were few and scattered, and at frequent intervals winding path cut winding path, and clumps of new-leaved shrubbery made unexpected shadowy hiding-places. It was this very intricate quality of the park's arrangement that made my choice of it a mistake. For after doubling two or three times, I stopped to listen and made sure that I had shaken off and distanced my pursuers.

A ghostly policeman passed me, and I nodded to him gaily, for I was childishly pleased with myself; so pleased that I found myself whistling softly as I turned vaguely east in what I supposed to be the direction of Fifth Avenue. I must have been walking four or five minutes before my men stepped suddenly out in front of me.

For a second all three of us stood still, peering in the vague light for further certainty; then, as if at some preconcerted signal, they sprang at me. Instinctively I dodged a little to one side, as something long and heavy grazed my right ear and thudded in crushing silence on to my shoulder. The other man had dived and taken me about the knees.

"I got him, Jim," he grunted. "Soak him."

In the meantime, I had struck the man with the left hand, and, as he staggered, I caught him roughly by the coat, and still with my left hand, for my right arm seemed numb and powerless, I jerked him forward so that he toppled toward me, and the three of us went down in a heap. I think, even as I fell, I felt the exultant joy of fighting. Then I squirmed and kicked out viciously, for the man who still held my knees had suddenly fastened his teeth in my useless wrist. With the animal pain of it, and the flashing recognition of the unfairness and murderous intent of the fight, my unused, unrecognized strength swept over me like a hot wave. I found myself suddenly on my feet, holding my lesser assailant by the collar and using his head as a sort of unwieldy club to batter unconsciously on the man upon the sidewalk. My jerking him viciously back for a third blow was the last thing I remember, for, like a suddenly extinguished light, the world went utterly out of existence. It must have been some time before it came reelingly before my eyes again.

"Lave go my arm; lave it go, ye devil. Do ye want to break it?" I relaxed an unconscious grasp and closed my eyes for a sickening moment.

"Who are you?" I whispered at length.

"Who ye are has got more to do with it," the voice answered.

I tried opening my eyes again, and in the staggering darkness saw the looming outline of a policeman's helmet.

The policeman dragged me up into a sitting posture.

"There," he said, "I've been holding your head in my lap for the last five minutes, and 'tis a silly looking sight the two of us are. Ye able to sit? What hit ye? Were ye attacked?"

"I was," I answered. "Didn't you see them?"

"Not a soul. But I near broke my neck over ye. It's a fearsome thing to step on a man's stomach in the dark an get never a grunt out of him. Do ye want to make a complaint?"

Does Your Body Smell Sweet?

THERE is now no longer even the shadow of an excuse for any woman to be troubled with "sticky," binding garments—however hot the weather. Kuco No-Chafe Powder—a wonderful new discovery by an old, long-established firm of pharmaceutical chemists—keeps the skin always pure and sweet—gives that delightfully refreshing feeling of super-cleanliness.

In homes of good taste and culture

The Toilet Powder of Discriminating Women

—is valued as the toilet requisite without which no dressing-table, no sanitary nursery, no toilet case, is complete.

Applied lightly to the neck, shoulders, arm-pits, bust, waist, and where the stockings bind, and all parts of the body where the clothing rubs—Kuco No-Chafe Powder imparts the ease and comfort in dress that are distinctive of refinement.

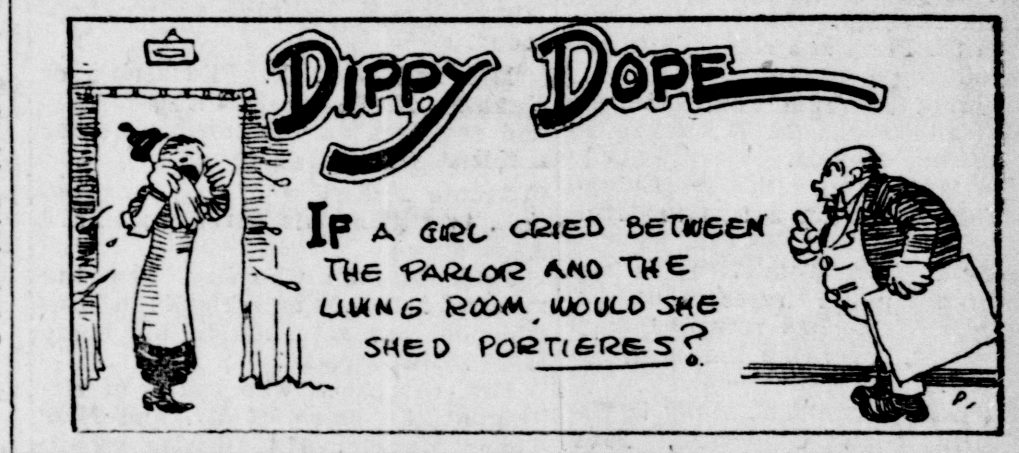

Kuco is a double blessing to stout women. The more comfortably a woman's gown fits her, the more slender she looks.

Kuco is not a talcum powder—does not rub off as talcums and ordinary toilet powders do. It "lays" to the skin in an almost invisible, smooth, velvety film. This exclusive quality of Kuco No-Chafe Powder has given it a place all its own as a toilet necessity for the use of cultured men and women.

Kuco is sold by all good druggists, at 25c a box, with revolving sifter top.

To ask your druggist for Kuco No-Chafe Powder distinguishes you as a user of the finest toilet requisites, insistent upon the most immaculate of personal care.

out of him. Do ye want to make a complaint?"

"No," I said vaguely, "I believe I'll go home. I'm not feeling very well." I laughed abruptly, and stopped at the foolish sound of it.

The park policeman lent me a steady arm and took me as far as the gate, protesting kindly that he had better find a cab.

"No wonder ye feel sick," he said, "with a boom on the back of yer head like the dome of a synagogue. Ye'd better run up to the hospital and see if any of yer skull is left, for if ye've been murdered, ye ought to make a complaint whether ye want to or not."

"No," I protested, "I'm all right," and at the Fifth Avenue entrance I left him.

I had only gone about a block, however, before a terrible thought burnt for a moment the sick dizziness from my mind. I stopped under a light and began a systematic search of my pockets. They were empty. The collar and tie of the man in the brown derby, my watch, my note-book, and my money were all of them gone. I had been stripped absolutely bare.

FOR AIR BIRTHS.

GENEVA, July 19.—"In the event of a birth or a death occurring in an aircraft the pilot is to enter the event in his big log book and must notify the fact to the authorities at the first place at which he descends."

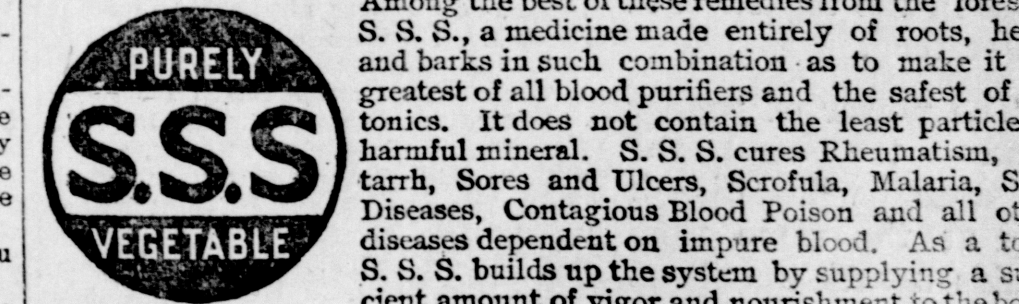

This one of the paragraphs in the suggested code of laws prepared by the second International Congress on aerial legislation, meeting here.

A Cure From The Forest

Nature in her wisdom and beneficence has provided, in her great vegetable laboratory, the forest, a cure for most of the ills and ailments of humanity. Work and study have perfected the compounding of these botanical medicines and placed them at our disposal. We rely upon them first because of their ability in curing disease, and next because we can use them with the confidence that such remedies do not injure the system.

Among the best of these remedies from the forest is S. S. S., a medicine made entirely of roots, herbs and barks in such combination as to make it the greatest of all blood purifiers and the safest of all tonics. It does not contain the least particle of harmful mineral. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Malaria, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison and all other diseases dependent on impure blood. As a tonic S. S. S. builds up the system by supplying a sufficient amount of vigor and nourishment to the body.

S. S. S. always cures without leaving any unpleasant or injurious effects. It is perfectly safe for young or old. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

Only Three of Campaign Committee Are Over Fifty Years Old; Most Are New to Game

SEA GIRT, N. J., July 19.—Woodrow Wilson's campaign for president will be a young man's battle, it was pointed out here today. Among the men who make up the campaign committee of fourteen only three are over 50 years of age and only a few are of recognized reputation. The committee members and their ages are:

William F. McCombs, chairman, 37; Robert S. Hudspeth, national committeeman from New Jersey, 46; Joseph Daniels, national committeeman from North Carolina, 49; Willard L. Saulsbury, national committeeman from Delaware, 49; Robert Ewing, national committeeman from Louisiana, 50; A. Mitchell Palmer, national committeeman from Wisconsin, 33; Will R. King, national committeeman from Oregon, 45; United States Senator Thomas P. Gore of Oklahoma, 42; United States Senator James O'Gorman, New York, 52; United States Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, 51; Representative Daniel J. McGillicuddy of Maine, 52; Representative Albert S. Burleson of Texas, 49; William G. McAdoo, New York, 49.

The conference was resumed today at the New Monmouth hotel at Spring Lake.

Governor Wilson and Chairman McCombs announced today that headquarters would be opened by McCombs in New York in a few days and that branch headquarters would be opened in Chicago and one city farther west soon.

Chairman McCombs today announced that he and Secretary Davies planned to leave for New York this afternoon to meet ex-Chairman Mack of the democratic national committee at the Hotel Knickerbocker, and to begin the hunt for national headquarters.

BRITAIN SENDS NO NOTE OF PROTEST

WASHINGTON, July 19.—When Councillor Innes of the British embassy called at the state department today to talk over his government's objection to the Panama canal bill, he did not have any additional formal note from the London foreign office outlining that government's attitude. It was understood that Innes received instructions to transmit verbally Great Britain's opposition to the plan for free tolls for American ships. The senate again debated the Panama canal bill.

LORIMER WILL NOT SEEK VINDICATION

CHICAGO, July 19.—That William Lorimer will not seek "vindication" at the hands of the Illinois general assembly should it convene in special session was the statement of friends of the "blonde boss" here today. They declare Lorimer's strength will be negligible when the forty-eighth legislature meets next January and suggests he be a candidate for congress in his old district.

TRY YOUTHS MONDAY

BUTLER, Pa., July 19.—Hearings of the Carl Snyder and Harry Keister, the two youths charged with a serious offense in connection with the death of 17 year old Stella Hockenberry, the Slippery Rock high school girl, from abuse and alcoholism, will be held next Monday, before Judge Little.

Destroying Weeds in Ponds.

Copper sulphate is often used for destroying the scum-like weeds in ponds. But precautions must be taken, for unless the right proportion of sulphate is used any fish which may be in the pond will be injured. The proportion of copper sulphate used in the ponds at Kew Gardens is one part to 750,000 to 1,000,000 parts of water. Sulphate of copper in a pulverized state is placed in a porous bag and dragged through the water until dissolved. The water in St. James's Park, London, it might be mentioned, has for two summers been kept free from scum by this method.—London Mail.

SHOWS WHY CARMEN NEED PAY RAISED

CHICAGO, July 19.—A unique plea for an advance in wages was made to officials of the Chicago Street Railways today by International President W. D. McMahon of the Street Railway Employees' Union, when he submitted statistics which he asserts prove it requires $1,091.66 per annum to support a family of five, the average number. With one day off a week the average yearly salary of a street car employ is $875.62, according to Mr. McMahon.

PUMA IN SHOW KILLS BABY BOY

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., July 19.—Little Buster Higgins, 4, is dying today as a result of an attack made on him by a maddened puma at a carnival animal show here last night. The boy was passing the cage with his father when the puma, maddened by the heat and glaring lights, without warning reached out and snatched the child from his father's arms. Before a keeper killed the animal the boy was horribly lacerated.

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL IS ADOPTED

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The conference report on the rivers and harbors bill was adopted yesterday afternoon by the senate.

Senator Nelson said the bill now carries $33,209,370. As passed by the house it carried $26,365,000. The senate added $8,054,000. The conferees reduced the bill by $824,000. The senator declared the government had lost more than the sum saved because the measure was not passed before July 1.

CATCH 500 REBELS IN MOUNTAIN PASS

EL PASO, Tex., July 19.—Five hundred rebels sent west from Madera by Gen. Rojas are reported to have been practically annihilated in Dolores pass by a federal command. Stragglers who escaped the slaughter are said to be coming back into Madera today. Of the 500 rebels caught in the pass, it is said fewer than 100 escaped. The rebels were on their way to begin the campaign. Rojas was not with them.

TO HELP MINISTERS.

LONDON, July 19.—Following the recent example of the Baptists of England in enacting church legislation looking to the establishment of a minimum wage for ministers, the Unitarian Association has taken similar steps.

A "sustentation fund" of $150,000 is to be raised, from the interest of which it is proposed to make grants to the poorer congregations so that they may be enabled to pay their pastors liveable salaries. The graduated scale of minimum pay suggested is from $600 a year in the village and smaller towns to $875 in the cities.

AMERICAN JOCKEYS WIN

LONDON, July 19.—T. Pitkington's Prince Palatine won the Eclipse stakes at Sandown park today. Lord Derby's Steadfast and J. B. Joel's Lycaon finished second and third, respectively. The American jockeys, Frank O'Neill and Danny Maher, rode first and second. The race is worth $50,000.

Latest in House Building.

Spanners and screwdrivers are the only tools required in up-to-date house building. This latest development in an important craft comes, as might be expected, from the United States, says London Tit-Bits. Blocks of concrete cement are cast according to the desired pattern, with a wire spiral passage through the center. When ready for erection steel pins are passed through the center of the castings, and the whole bolted together over a wooden frame. The work of building or dismantling a house so constructed is stated to be simple in the extreme.

Philosophic.

A boy owned a dog and a tricycle, who never could be induced to state a preference. On being asked which he would prefer to have a bigger boy take from him, he answered: "The one that the boy took."

Luxury and Dissipation.

Luxury and dissipation, soft and gentle as their approaches are, and silently as they throw their silken chains about the heart, enslave it more than the most active and turbulent vices.—Hannah More.

The score was only 1 to 0, with two men out, in the first inning at Boston, when it rained, and saved the White Sox.

The weatherman spoiled the Giants-Pirates game, too. The Cubs and the Phillies broke even. In the first game the Cubs used 18 men and annexed 21 hits—but lost it.

Saier and Evers each knocked a homer in the fourth inning of the Chicago game.

Eight fumbles cost Brooklyn the game at St. Louis.

Hard hitting against poor fielding won for Boston in the first game, and hard hitting and excellent pitching won for Cincinnati in the second.

THE BEST TEACHER Experience Still Holds The Palm

For real practical reliability and something to swear by, experience—plain old experience—is able to carry a big load yet without getting swayed.

A So. Dak. woman found some things about food from Old Experience a good, reliable teacher.

She writes: "I think I have used almost every breakfast food manufactured, but none equal Grape-Nuts in my estimation."

"I was greatly bothered with weak stomach and indigestion, with formation of gas after eating, and tried many remedies for it but did not find relief."

"Then I decided I must diet and see if I could overcome the difficulty that way. My choice of food was Grape-Nuts because the doctor told me I could not digest starchy food."

"It has been a great benefit to me for I feel like a different person since I began to use it. It is wonderful to me, how strong my nerves have become. I advise everyone to try it, for experience is the best teacher."

"If you have any stomach trouble—can't digest your food, use Grape-Nuts food for breakfast at least, and you won't be able to praise it enough when you see how different you feel."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

"There's a Reason"

Timely Aid

When one's digestion is "out of fix" a good straightforward test of food is worth much.

Many who have suffered from stomach trouble have discovered that a dish of

Grape-Nuts

is not only easily digested, but actually assists in the digestion of other food.

The power of proper food—the kind the stomach will digest, and at the same time yields nourishment—is almost unlimited.

MILWAUKEE TRAINS TO STOP AT CAMP

Because of the large number of troops quartered at Camp McCoy and the many visitors who go there to witness the army maneuvers, the C. M. & St. P. railroad has given notice that passenger trains No. 5, 55, and 6 will stop at the camp every day until notice is given that this will be discontinued. The camp is located some distance from Sparta and the trains stopping there will be of great convenience to the large crowds which visit the place.

A special train of twelve coaches and a baggage car passed through La Crosse on the C. M. & St. P. railroad enroute for Camp Douglas where some troops are to be taken home from camp. The train goes east from Camp Douglas.

REACHING HIGH POINT

A SUGGESTION OF WHAT THE DAIRY BUSINESS OF WISCONSIN WILL BE IN THE FUTURE.

The campaign for better stock in the state, which is now conceded to have the best stock, appears to be ultra progressive, but that is what Wisconsin sees to be the desirable thing at this time—in fact for all time.

While there appears to be more pessimistic talk on the poor cow question in this state than the facts call for, the figures on the comparative production and cost of keeping appearing too narrow, the fact remains that, no matter what the profit is at this time, the people want as much added thereto as conditions well permit.

In this connection the result of the cow tests in Wisconsin is interesting. The Wisconsin Agriculturalist states that the first prize herd produced an annual average per cow of 16,044 pounds of milk or nearly 600 pounds of butter fat. At the prevailing price of 27 cents per pound for butter fat this means an annual product of $162 per cow. The cost of production is not given, but it is the experience of dairymen that the cost of keeping good cows is seldom much more, and is often less than that of poor ones.

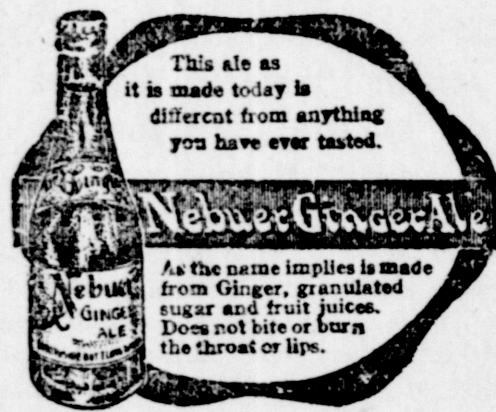

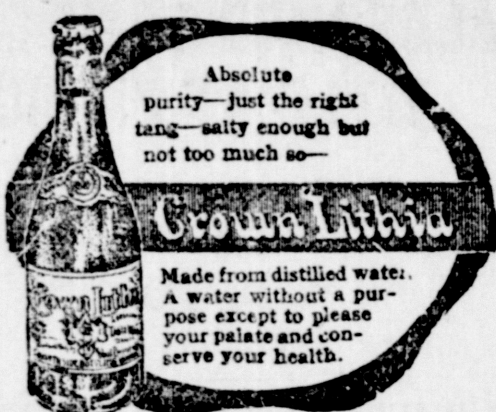

While the annual return per cow has never been definitely determined, the estimates at hand would appear to place it between $55 and $60 per cow. There is no good reason why this average should not speedily be brought to $100, with the high mark as above shown in the prize herd as the objective point. This would double the present dairy output of the state without increasing the number of cows, and the development of the unused lands of the upper portion of the state would enable the doubling of the number of animals. What, then, of the future of dairying in the state that now leads the nation?

OPERATOR EVADES

CORONER SUBPOENA

CHICAGO, July 19.—Mrs. F. A. Wilcox, operator, West Springs, when the Burlington mail train crashed into the Overland limited, yesterday successfully evaded service of a subpoena calling her to testify at the inquest started by Coroner Hoffman. Burlington railroad officials assured the coroner that they would produce Mrs. Wilcox when she was wanted. Witnesses today simply related the story of the wreck which had already been told to the coroner. It was said yesterday that considerable importance was attached by Coroner Hoffman to the result of his questioning Mrs. Wilcox.

It was learned today that the body of Mrs. C. W. Tudor of Oskaloosa, Iowa, had been mistaken for that of Mrs. Charles Potter and had been shipped to Jackson, Mich. Mrs. Potter's body being sent to Oskaloosa. The mistake was corrected and the bodies brought back to Chicago.

FATHER AND SON ELECTROCUTED

Winona's Oldest Mail Carrier and Son Are Victims; Wire Carried 117 Volts

WINONA, Minn., July 19.—Martin Daszkowski, aged 53, the oldest mail carrier in Winona in point of years in service, and his son Edward, 19 years old, were electrocuted at 9 o'clock last night in the rear of their home in the lower end of the city.

The young man who had had considerable experience as an amateur electrician, was building a workshop back of the house. He worked by candle light until he thought he might "borrow" electric illumination from the home. He completed the connections and was about to supply the bulb when he dropped to the ground, writhing in agony and unable to release his hold.

The father who already had retired, heard the cries and rushed to assist him. He apparently realized his son's predicament at a glance. He hesitated a moment, then grasped the boy. The electricity coursed through his body in an instant, and the two were dead before the horrified children, who had witnessed the tragedy from the rear porch, could reach them. One of the oldest children threw the switch and cut off the current, but when physicians arrived the father and son were pronounced dead.

According to officials of the local electric light company the wire which served as the death instrument carried only 117 volts, the amount required in lighting the house. Both had neither shoes nor stockings on and were standing on damp soil, giving a perfect ground.

Mr. Daszkowski carried a mail route daily for twenty-six years. Last October he was the honored guest of the local letter carriers at a banquet, when he was elected president of the local branch.

SENATORS WAR OVER NATIONAL ANTHEM

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Although war has been waged for several months, Sen. Rayner of Maryland, and Sen. Heyburn of Idaho, are unable to settle their dispute over the national anthem.

"The Star Spangled Banner" is the nation's anthem, according to Rayner. This is disputed by Heyburn, but he does not name any particular song as his choice, merely picking the "field." Heyburn favors "My Country 'Tis of Thee," as the national song.

The dispute, which has been fought out privately between the two senators in the senate cloak room off and on since last winter, was provoked by Rayner's championing of a bill to perpetuate and preserve old Fort Henry, which repulsed the British fleet in 1812. Senator Rayner's resolution recited that there the national anthem—the "Star Spangled Banner"—was born.

Heyburn did not concede or admit that the "Star Spangled Banner" was evoked at Fort Henry, but denied that it was ever officially chosen as the national anthem.

TREATING BLOATED CATTLE AND SHEEP

Bloat in cattle is an excessive accumulation of gas in the paunch. Tap high in the left flank with a trocar and canula or pass a stomach tube (probang) down the gullet. Give two ounces of turpentine in a quart of milk as a drench by the mouth or one-half pound common baking soda dissolved in a quart of warm water. Rectal injections of soapy warm water are useful. Do not run the animal, as a rupture may occur. If instruments are not at hand, tie a piece of fork handle as a bit in the mouth.

Bloat in sheep appears suddenly and is often due to eating wet clover or alfalfa. Immediately administer two teaspoonfuls of aromatic spirits of ammonia or a tablespoonful of turpentine in a cup of milk as a drench. If relief is not sufficient, tap in left flank as above.

Love may not make the world go 'round, but it has that effect on the wheels in the lover's head.

TRY TO RUN THE STRAITS IN VAIN

Italian Torpedo Boats Attempt to Slip Through Dardanelles at Night, but Two Are Sunk

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 19.—Eight Italian torpedo boats tried to run the Dardanelles early today but were driven off by a terrific fire from the Turkish shore forts. It is reported that two of the boats were sunk.

The Italians' surprise attack was attempted under cover of darkness about 2 a. m. The torpedo vessels had not steamed far, however, before they were revealed by searchlights directed from one of the forts and a furious cannonade immediately began.

Few details of the engagement are known. The run through the Dardanelles is one of about forty miles between coasts from one and one-fifth to four miles apart. Had the Italian flotilla succeeded, it would have had the obsolete Turkish warships in the sea of Marmora at its mercy and a bombardment of Constantinople, at the eastern end of the Marmora sea would certainly have followed.

MRS. FREISE IS CALLED BY DEATH

Husband Says Death Was Indirectly Due to Auto Accident; Ill Since New Year's

Mrs. Jenny Freise, aged 50 years, died at 9:30 this morning at her home in Hillview Place. Her husband, Henry Freise, declares that her death was indirectly due to an auto accident in which she was injured New Year's day of this year, when she and another woman were thrown out of a buggy in which they were riding when it was struck by a machine owned by H. L. Colman. Mr. Freise says that his wife has been constantly ailing since the accident, although she has never been seriously ill. He believes that she was injured internally at the time of the accident. No bones were broken, although she was badly bruised on the right side of the body.

Mrs. Freise has been ill only since Monday, when a doctor examined her and diagnosed the case as diabetes.

Mrs. Freise has been a resident of La Crosse more than twenty-five years. She was born in Norway July 5, 1872, and came to La Crosse while a young woman. She is survived by her husband and a son, Henry M. Freise. Two sisters, Mrs. Hannah Pinkham, Viroqua, and Mrs. Ella Erickson, Minneapolis, and one brother, Herman Erickson, who is in North Dakota, also survive.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

14 KILLED WHEN CAMP IS WRECKED

Mazuma Mining Camp Near Reno Is Wiped Out by Cloudburst Late Yesterday

RENO, Nev., July 19.—Dispatches today from Mazuma, which was practically destroyed by a cloudburst yesterday, say that nine persons are known to have been drowned, but that five are missing and nine are badly injured.

The bodies of nine victims were found three miles down the canyon, having been carried there by a sudden rush of water when the flood came rushing down the gulch. The dispatches also say the mining camp of Seven Troughs, which was reported destroyed, was not seriously damaged. Rescuers are searching the debris for the missing, and the injured are being taken to Lovelock.

The dead so far recovered are: Four boys of the Keough family; John Trenchard, formerly of Victor, Col., and his wife; Mrs. McLean, Mazuma; Miss Reese, Mazuma; Mine Superintendent Gillespie and son; Michael Quallen.

Until early today it was reported that 150 other persons were missing, but it is now said all these have been accounted for.

Both camps have been isolated and it is difficult even at this hour to get accurate reports. The Seven Troughs camp is located about half way up the mountain side.

A cloudburst in the mountains about 6 p. m. started a wall of water down the steep sides which swept through Seven Troughs and carried a part of it away and then came rushing down the gulch upon Mazuma. All the buildings in this camp were flimsily constructed and the water easily demolished them and carried the debris down the canon. The Mazuma hotel was wrecked and so sudden was the rush of water that pedestrians walking in the streets were carried away before they had time to scramble to safety. Many of these, at first believed lost, were swept to safety on the sides of the canon.

News of the disaster was sent to nearby towns and to Reno and physicians, nurses and provisions were rushed to Mazuma and Seven Troughs in automobiles. One relief party formed at the town of Lovelock, was stranded in their automobiles by the flood before they could reach the scene of the wreck and was forced to return to Lovelock.

MME. STEPHALI IN GOOD VOICE

Pleases Appreciative Audience in Lecture Recital at Old "Y" Last Evening

A large and appreciative audience greeted Madame Sophia Stephali, the noted mezzo-soprano, in her last lecture recital here last night at the old Y. M. C. A. building. The singer was in good voice and gave a heavy program of songs by American and foreign composers. Miss Bernice Lathrop accompanied Mme. Stephali in a most satisfactory manner. She played "Florence Waltz" (Liebling) as a prelude to the lecture. Madame Stephali spoke on "Music and Life" and in the course of her talk declared that too many singers fail to take into consideration the audience to which she is singing and sings songs which, for instance, suit her voice, jibe with her temperament, or sing them just because they are great songs.

The real artist, said the speaker, should have on her program such songs as will appeal to her hearers, those which go straight to their hearts as depicting emotions which form a part of their everyday life. "The Kiss" by Ardit was sung with much fervor and musical perception by Madame Stephali; "To You" dedicated to the singer by the composer, Helena Bingham, was a most pleasing number. "My heart at Thy Sweet Voice" by Saint-Saens was admirably sung and "La Perle du Bresil" by David evoked much deserved applause. A feature of her program was a group of old familiar songs which were rendered as only an artist can sing them.

This was the last of a series of three concerts by Madame Stephali and Miss Bernice Lathrop who were brought here by the Women's Relief Corps the local patriotic organization, for the purpose of cultivating a better appreciation of music among La Crosse people. Both are distinct artists in voice and piano and a return engagement would be heartily welcomed.

The man opened his tipsy eyes and saw the long, black coat. He said: "Are you a minister?" "Yes," said Doctor Hall. "Come, get out of here!" "Presbyterian?" queried the inebriate. "Yes," was the answer, somewhat impatiently, "I am."

ALDERMEN GRAB TITLE AT PICNIC

Put It All Over City Officials in Hot Baseball Game at Dresden Park Yesterday

SUNBURN THE STYLE TODAY

City Dads Report One Grand Time on Annual Outing Up the River

The annual picnic of the city officials was held at Dresden park yesterday. The officials, numbering about seventy, met at Singer's boat ferry at 8:30 yesterday morning and made the nine mile trip in three launches which had been procured by the committee. Upon landing the aldermen and city hall officials immediately started to "warm up" for the annual battle which was called at 11 o'clock.

The 1911 city title is held by the aldermen as a result of a one sided but interesting baseball game which ended with a score of 23 to 6. Despite the efforts of Controller "Billy" Fries to rally his men and work the "umps" the aldermen continued to pound the ball until the final round. Following the dinner which was served at 2 o'clock, the picnic resumed itself into a card party. Alderman George B. Marvin, Jr., won laurels (only) with the pasteboards.

The greater part of the afternoon was spent in singing, with City Attorney A. H. Schubert acting as director. Following the supper, which was served at 6 o'clock, the officials started on the return trip with Dr. J. M. Furman in command of the first ship.

Pictures of the city officials and the city council baseball team were taken during the afternoon, and several baseball games were played. The committee in charge of the picnic arrangements was: Mayor John Dengler, P. W. Mahoney, F. Roth, W. P. Roellig and City Clerk E. H. Hoffman. All offices in the city hall were opened for business yesterday, a corps of clerks and deputies having been left in charge of the several departments. A blistered, sunburned and stiff jointed but nevertheless satisfied bunch of city officials showed up for work at the city hall this morning.

THIRD FIRE AT BIG PLANT IN TWO YEARS

The third fire at the Smith Manufacturing plant within the last two years broke out at 5:45 yesterday afternoon in a dry kiln, causing damage of over $200 to the building and an additional loss to the contents. The fire is thought to have been caused by overheating of the kiln, spontaneous combustion of a spark.

Fire companies No. 1 and 3 were called to extinguish the fire and succeeded in keeping it from spreading after a hard fight. Three streams were played upon the fire before it was put out.

SAYS CHILD SHE STOLE IS HERS

Woman Chased Across 3 Counties in Automobiles After She Kidnaps Little Girl

CLAIMS IS HER DAUGHTER

Declares Divorced Husband Took Child Away and Gave It to Others for Adoption

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 19.—Pursued across three counties by police on motorcycles and automobiles, personally running her car nearly fifty miles an hour over muddy roads and through a downpour of rain, Mrs. Herman F. Lehman, of this city, was finally arrested here today and charged with kidnapping. Accompanied by another woman and a man whose identity has not been established, she went to Attica, Wyoming county, last night. The car stopped in front of the Eagle hotel there and Mrs. Lehman entered and a few minutes later came out accompanied by Evelyn Mildred Sloan, 11 years old, adopted daughter of John W. Sloan, proprietor of the hotel. Mrs. Lehman put the girl in the rear seat and took the wheel herself. As they started out of the village at top speed, Sloan saw them, rounded up the Attica chief of police and the sheriff of the county, and gave chase in his own automobile.

She told that the girl was her own daughter, who, she says, was taken away from her by its father, Charles F. Deming, in Chicago, shortly after the child was born. Since then she says she had been searching for the child and discovered only a few days ago that it had been given to Sloan and his wife to adopt. She declared that she was prepared to prove that the child was stolen from her and that she would go to court to substantiate her claim. She was held to await the action of the Wyoming county authorities.

BRONCHO BUSTERS REAL HORSEMEN

One of the many interesting sides of the truly Western type, the cowboy, is exploited to advantage in Buffalo Bill's Wild West and Pawnee Bill's Far East. The management has organized a goodly band of these rugged Westerners and they will illustrate the daring equestrian deeds which have been repeated upon the open prairie. They will give riding exhibitions and samples of the cowboy's sport, and will illustrate with real bronchos the difficult science of broncho busting.

The genuine cowboy is fast passing into history and his long career of usefulness in developing the Western wilds will not soon be forgotten. Bucking bronchos are no figment of fancy; they are as real as the stampee, and to successfully compete with these agencies for injury and death he must be of the genuine type of horseman who will live in history as cowboys.

In bucking, the broncho applies all the force of his body, exerts his nimbleness, and evidences remarkable dexterity in the contortions of body, head and legs, which he employs to dislodge his distasteful rider. He may jump into the air and land on all four feet with his legs stiff as a board; he may swirl and jump and kick and buck in a general melange of devilishness; but his rider must be ever alert as he cannot know in just which direction the horse will next jump or what he will next do. It is quite impossible to adequately describe the antics of a bucking broncho; it is a performance which can only be fully appreciated by being witnessed. An unusual effort has been made this season to secure a rare lot of "outlaw terrorists" in the Wild West and Far East.

WHITMAN JUMPS ON POLICE FORCE

Says Man Now Held for Rosenthal Murder Was Collector of Graft for Police

NEW YORK, July 19.—The bitter feeling between the police and District Attorney Whitman as the result of the murder of Gambler Herman Rosenthal and the developments in the gambling situation was intensified today when Whitman took issue with the police regarding Jack Rose, now in the Tombs on a homicide charge. When the prosecutor's attention was called to the declaration of the police that they had "turned Rose up" he sneered and said: "Yes, when I made it very plain that they had to get this man, they sent word to him to come to headquarters. I do not believe Rose was actually present at the killing. He has been a collector of police graft and knows all about the system, and I intend that he shall stay where we can get at him."

Whitman positively refused to say where he was going, on a trip this afternoon, but it was believed it was in connection with a mysterious conference he had late last night at his home with an individual said to be one of the best known gamblers in the United States. This man, it was reported, told Whitman where he could get into touch with others of the fraternity now outside of the court's jurisdiction, who could give him real information regarding the relations between the gamblers and the police.

The direct declaration that Police Lieutenant Becker will not be suspended from duty unless District Attorney Whitman will "make at least one charge against him that will hold," was made by Police Commissioner Waldo this afternoon.

STEFFENS SUPPORTS DARROW DEFENSE

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 19.—Lincoln J. Steffens, the magazine writer, who was instrumental in bringing about the ending of the McNamara murder cases, resumed his testimony when today's session of the Darrow bribery trial began. The state expected to begin examination of him this afternoon. Steffens' testimony was most dramatic. He explained at length how the McNamara brothers agreed to plead guilty two days before the state alleges Darrow passed bribes to jurors. This goes to the heart of Darrow's defense, as he alleges bribery by him was wholly unnecessary as the cases were virtually settled before the alleged bribes were passed.

HOW TO BE CHAPLAIN WANT HONEST FABRICS

U. S. ARMY CLERGYMAN WRITES GUIDE FOR THOSE WHO WOULD BE PASTORS OVER SOLDIERS.

LAUNDRYMEN WANT NATIONAL LAW PROVIDING FOR LABELS ON ALL KINDS OF CLOTH.

WASHINGTON, July 19. — "A Chaplain's Duties and How Best to Perform Them" is the title of Uncle Sam's latest best seller in the literary world. The book is published by the War Department, and was written by Chaplain George J. Waring, of the Eleventh Cavalry.

To hire army chaplains by contract, instead of permanently employing them by giving them commissions, is recommended in the book. The author decries the proposed scheme to give chaplains higher rank. He also urges that rectories be provided for chaplains at army posts and that a distinctive flag, a blue field with a white cross, be accorded them. To change the chaplain's uniform by making them more clerical and less military is also suggested by Chaplain Waring.

The publication is made by authority and direction of the war department, but without comment to show it has the official sanction of the department heads.

ST. PAUL, July 19. — A strong effort will be made by the laundries of the United States to have a national law prescribing proper labels for all sorts of fabrics. The laundrymen don't want to undertake to dry clean a silk dress and find that the metallic lead and tin used in some fabrics has disappeared during the cleaning. The naked silk makes an irate customer who will accept no other suggestion but that the cleaner used something to ruin the fabric. The cleaner can't avoid ruining the silk if tin is used to make the silk weigh more.

The law to be proposed at a meeting of the national association in Detroit has been urged by J. Claire Stone of St. Paul, chairman of the legislative committee. It will make compulsory the naming of the kind and amount of adulterants in fabrics, so customers will know what they are buying.

DEFENDS ECONOMY OF ADMINISTRATION

Secretary of State Frear Says Commissions Cost Only 3 Per Cent of Total State Disbursement

RAILWAYS PAY FOR STATE

Increase in Roads' Taxes Pays All Administrative State Expenses Without Any Unfairness

RICE LAKE, Wis., July 19. — The total expense of all the state commission in Wisconsin, apart from the service they render the state, is approximately not more than three per cent of all the annual disbursements. The saving in freight charges to the people each year through the state railway commission would pay the expenses of all the commissions for several years.

This was stated by Secretary of State James A. Frear in an address here last night in which he considered the question of state expenditures. He said:

No Tax For State.

"During the past ten years not one dollar in tax has been levied for state administration purposes, but on the contrary the state through remission and otherwise has been called upon to pay out of the treasury moneys to run educational institutions of the various counties and other charges which are properly local in character.

"The state expenditures increased from $4,036,997 in 1909 to $9,782,459 in 1910, or during a period of ten years is more than doubled, although during part of the time the state taxes were remitted because of large treasury receipts. Of these expenditures the total administrative charges of all commissions, state departments and every other administrative branch of the state increased about $256,000, but the moneys collected through additional fees in the insurance department alone in 1910 practically paid every dollar of state administrative expense that year, including the expense of all the commissions. Expressed another way, the increase in railway taxes brought about by the state tax commission, which approximates over $700,000 in annual increase, pays all administrative state expenses, without doing any injustice to the railways."

23 Per Cent Paid Back.

Secretary Frear also noted that 23 per cent of the total expenditures in 1910 was paid back to the counties for common schools, leaving the amount of state disbursements aside from the refund at $7,536,459. About 40 per cent of the state expense was for educational purposes during the ten year period from 1900 to 1910, or three-quarters of a million dollars more than the total expenses for 1900.

"I am willing to compare the work of the state department and of other state offices with the work of private commercial companies and feel sure that the state work will not suffer by comparison. Now wherein is there extravagance in expenditures? Will you cut down educational work? Will any political party advocate reducing the 40 per cent expense for schools, 20 per cent of which is directly paid back to the counties? Will you cut down the support of the insane and other state charges? Legislators from all political parties voted for these expenditures. Will you stop work on the state capitol? Will you hamper the courts by reduction? Will you take away appropriations from county fairs that have increased more than any other item with one or two exceptions? Will you cut down the killing of tubercular cattle? This item has increased from $8,537 to $83,792, or nearly tenfold, within the ten years. Members from all the parties have voted for these expenditures. I am not defending every act of the legislature, but with all the time placed before the public regularly each year should be reduced?"

Spend Less Than Others.

"Wisconsin is spending more money, but Wisconsin is a great state. Much of the money which is disbursed by the state is for county purposes and is paid directly back to the counties, the state merely acting as a clearing house. Of the states with populations comparing with ours in 1910, California spent $13,465,000; Michigan $12,289,000; Minnesota $11,357,000, and Wisconsin $9,782,000.

"When claims of extravagance are made, it is well to have the critic point out just what expenditures should be stopped and then if he will enter the legislature his efforts may meet with more effective results than through press columns. Wisconsin gets as good or better return for the money expended than the average state, and a careful study of the subject is invited by state officials."

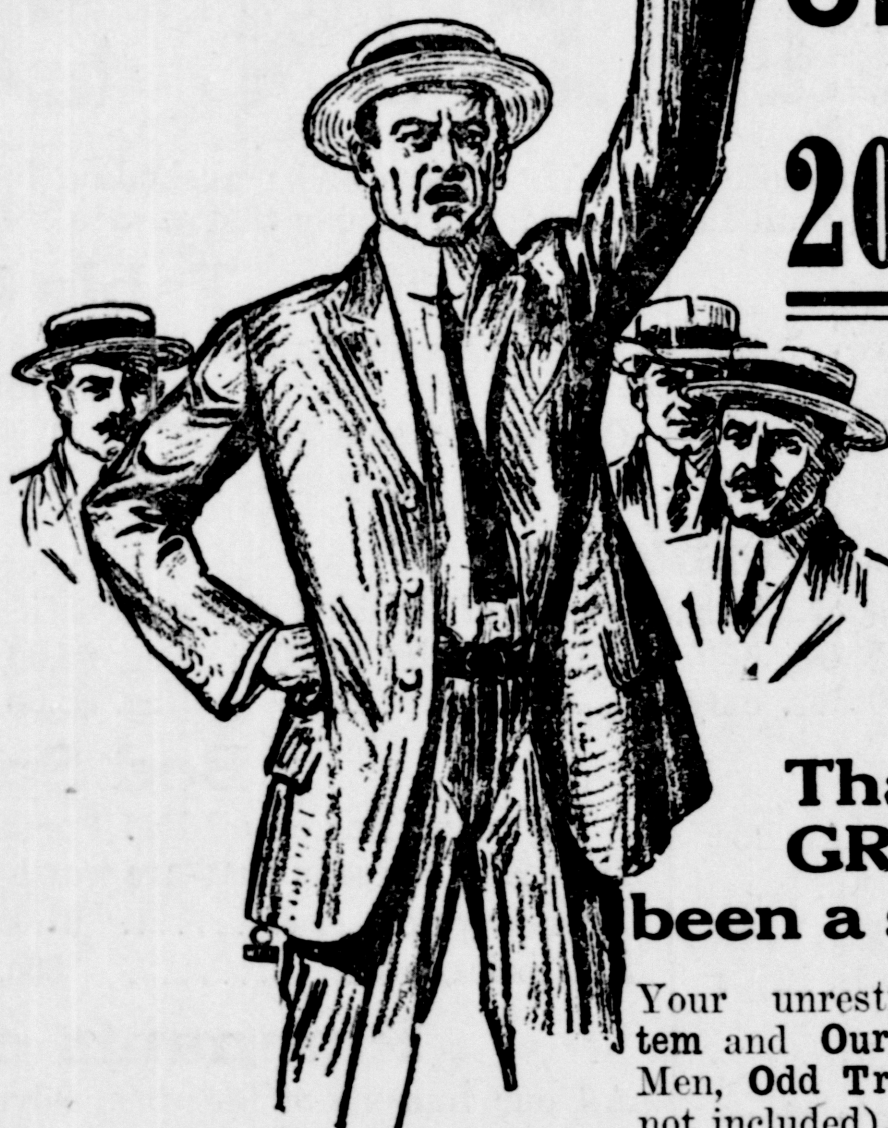

TEN SUICIDES PER DAY.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 19. — The unaccountable epidemic of suicides in Russia's capital continues at the rate of nearly 10 a day, most of the victims being less than 25 years of age.

Poison is the usual means employed, although a number have cut their throats with razors. Several have jumped through holes in the ice of the Neva. An aged nobleman, reduced to poverty, leaped from a six story window to instant death.

A bigamist is a man who has more wives than brains.

T. R. TOO GOOD AS PRESS AGENT

Finley Peter Dunne Says Colonel Praised Taft so Highly Country Was Disappointed by Him

In a remarkable article in the August American Magazine, F.P. Dunne characterizes Roosevelt and Taft and explains how Roosevelt happened to pick out Taft in 1908. Following is an extract:

"Mr. Taft was too highly recommended for the place. If no more had been expected of him than was expected of Harrison he would have caused him further to fall. The political leaders and writers who placed this well meaning man of middling capacity at a giddy height of state-manship are responsible for the terrific nature of his tumble."

T. R. to Blame

"We must blame Mr. Roosevelt first and most of all. The harm he has done Mr. Taft in the last six months is as nothing compared with what he did during the year before the nomination in 1908. Mr. Roosevelt was and is one of the most dangerous advance agents that any man could have. He promises too much. He attributes to his supporters or allies, for the time, virtues and powers that are beyond all reason. All others must stand on their merits and he is frank to admit that their merits are few in number and not noteworthy in character. But in describing those with whom he is associated he uses only adjectives in the superlative degree."

"Mr. Taft was always in agreement with Mr. Roosevelt. Possibly this was why Mr. Roosevelt thought so well of his intelligence. At any rate, critics were at first silenced and then convinced by the vehemence of the president's eulogy. It was as if he said: 'You think I'm great but you ought to know Taft.'"

Fine Press Agent

"Mr. Taft, who had never appeared publicly in these roles, was pictured as the pious friend, the fearless executive, the unexampled administrator, the far seeing lawmaker. He was this, he was that, he was everything wonderful. In his capacity as advance agent the president went out and 'billed' the country extravagantly for his protegee. He put up six-sheet posters everywhere announcing the coming of his 'unparalleled attraction.' He 'worked' the press for notices of his prodigy. He inflamed the public with the expectation that one of the marvels of the world has about to appear before them. Then he went on his way and the attraction followed."

Show a Failure

"It turned out to be a one-ring circus. The great political equestrian was discovered riding a hobby horse. The dazzling constitutional interpreter would not jump through a hoop half a foot higher than the constitutional constructions of a justice of the peace of Cuyahoga county. The fearless lion tamer entered the cage armed with a red hot poker and a brace of pistols and when the many old Protection lion groaned rather than roared, he scuttled out as fast as he could, locked the cage and announced that the only way to tame the ferocious beast was to investigate his necessities and in the meantime to give him more to eat! 'There was nothing essentially wrong about the show. It was a moral entertainment. But to the imaginations heated by the brilliant posters it was terribly dull. And what a cloud of political thimble-riggers, shell men and three-card-monte men it attracted.'"

ELOQUENCE WINS CASE

TOWN CRIER OF WELSH TOWN IS WORTHY OF MEDAL FOR HIS PROSECUTION OF ASSAULT CASE.

LONDON, July 19.—British newspapers are featuring William Williams, the town crier of Llanwrst, Wales, as a worthy rival to Senator Smith of Michigan in the art of "rhetorical floundering," as they characterized the speech of the chairman of the commerce sub-committee in presenting his Titanic report to the Senate.

Williams who was the prosecuting witness in a case of assault against a neighbor of the same name with whom he had quarreled because the neighbor's chickens had "assimilated" his onion beds, thus addressed the court:

"Between the hours of noon and one o'clock p. m. on Thursday ultimo last, I was walking peacefully along Watling street, with thoughts soaring aloft, when I was rudely and abruptly stopped by Kerzio Williams, heretofore known and identified as the defendant in the action, who detached my mind from its congenial pursuit by the use of such terrible language that the most godly man at Llanwrst who was approaching, turned back shocked, and hastened away."

"The defendant then challenged me to combat, but I am a man of peace, so I admonished him and told him to engage in battle with a younger man than I. But seeing savagery deepening in his eye, I took refuge in an adjoining shop and went through the back-door to another house, where I stopped for twenty minutes in fear and trembling."

"Thinking the defendant had sheered off, I emerged out of my shelter, when, before I could run for my life, the defendant struck me one in the eye and another on the temple, where your honor will observe a patch of tannish paper. The blows sent me hurtling into a shop,

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA

A Form of Stomach Trouble That Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Are Especially Adapted to Correct.

Mrs. James A. Fletcher, of No. 113 Beech avenue, Macon, Ga., says: "I recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People because they restored me to health after suffering five long months with nervous indigestion. While in St. Louis in 1903 I became a nervous wreck caused by what the doctors there called nervous indigestion. I had a peculiar pain in the top of my head that never left me for a single hour and at times I was almost distracted by the pain. My heart would palpitate so that I would sit up in bed for hours with my hand on it. It seemed some nights that I could not live until morning. I suffered from choking sensations and at times it interfered with my speech. The pain between my shoulders and in my side was intense. I could not digest anything I ate and lived for months on milk, lime water and eggs, and after eating even these I would be in misery and it seemed that I could belch gas for an hour at a time. After taking everything I ever heard of and being treated by a good doctor without relief, I decided to consult a specialist in St. Louis. It seemed that I got worse instead of better after following his directions for two months. I was almost prostrated for want of food as he said starving myself was my only chance. I had commenced to despair, when one morning while waiting for my husband to eat his breakfast and envying him every mouthful, I noticed a testimonial of a cure by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the paper. I read every word of it and as the case was similar to mine, I decided to try them. With the third box my digestion improved, the palpitation stopped and the pain in my head left. In a month's time I began to eat without distress. I regained my weight and strength and felt like a new person. I have been a well woman ever since."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were originally a prescription used in the doctor's private practice and their benefit to mankind has been increased many thousand fold by their being placed on general sale with the doctor's own directions for use. They contain no opiates or other habit-forming drugs.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

from which, when I emitted I leaned on the window-sill and bled profusely, leaving an ensanguined mark on the pavement, still observable."

FIVE WIVES IN AS MANY YEARS

LONDON, July 19.—England's champion bigamist, Harry Johnston Jordan, has just begun serving a sentence of three years' penal servitude.

Within five years, from 1901 to 1906, Jordan, who is 40 years of age and the superintendent of an insurance company, bigamously married five women, his first wife, whom he married in 1897 and deserted 11 weeks later being then alive. Each of his next four wives Jordan left after living with them from one to three months and borrowing from them various sums of money. He was living with the sixth when recently he was arrested in London.

"This is the worst case of its kind within my knowledge," commented the judge in passing sentence.

U. S. TRADE INCREASES.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Figures were cited at the state department today that due to dollar diplomacy, the United States trade with South American countries has been increased 50 per cent, or more for the eleven months ending May 30, compared with the same period in 1910.

FIND MOUNT SINAI

BERLIN, July 19.—The discovery of what is believed to be the real "Mount Sinai" of Holy Script is reported to the Academy of Science by Professor Dr. Al. Musin, from Damascus. Professor Musin believes that the extinct volcano Hala-l Bedr, in the Heda region of northern Arabia, is the biblical mountain where the Ten Commandments were given to Moses.

A pleasure, like a pipe, may be a solace to one man and a nuisance to others.

BEAUTIFUL HANDS AND ARMS

A FAMOUS BEAUTY GIVES HER SECRET TO THE WORLD

A Free Prescription You Can Prepare At Your Own Home

Many women take perfect care of their face and clothes, yet neglect their hands. Rough, red hands are almost as unattractive as ill-kept teeth.

It is a simple, easy matter to keep your hands smooth and beautiful. The following prescription, which you can compound at your own home, is famous for the marvelous, instantaneous result it gives:

Get from your druggist one ounce of Kulu Compound. Put it in a two-ounce bottle, add quarter of an ounce of witch hazel, fill with water and shake well.

You will be surprised at the result when applied to your hands, arms or neck. Blemishes of every kind disappear as if by magic. Freckles, tan, rough skin, coarse pores, yield instantly to this application. This is the private prescription of a famous Parisian beauty.

ASKS TRIAL FOR THE INCOME TAX

Frederick Underwood
Thinks that the New Law Should Now
Be Given Test

SAYS LAW WILL NOT WORK

Thinks that Those Who Enacted It Will Finally Bring About Its Repeal

In an interview published in the Milwaukee Journal, Frederick Underwood, formerly of La Crosse, has the following to say of the income tax law:

"Try the income tax law in Wisconsin. That is the way to find out. More public education by discussion would be of no benefit. People learn by trying things, and experience will prove what there is to income taxation.

"Certain leaders have persuaded the majority of the people that the income tax system is the right thing. The next step is to test it. You could not prove the contrary to this majority by any other means.

"The law will not work. The same leaders who have helped to enact it will some day be foremost in bringing about its repeal. Taxation ought to be based on gross receipts. There is no reason for ascertaining the value of a stretch of railroad and taxing it on that basis. What difference does it make how much it cost to build the road? The value is determined by its earning power, and that is fixed by its gross receipts.

"That the expenditures of a concern exceed its gross receipts—or in other words that it is a losing concern—is no argument against that method of taxation. Grasshoppers may eat up a farmer's crop, but a farmer who would try to escape taxation because of that would be looking on as foolish. And, anyway, the protection of government has been afforded—the policeman has been on guard just the same.

Emphatic Against Minimum Wage
"The government has no right to determine what a man shall work for. That is a matter between him and the man for whom he works. To fix wages is to attempt to get rich by legislation. It can't be done. If the government has a right to fix a minimum wage, why not a maximum wage?

"A much better plan to check discontent is through co-operation, or the profit sharing plan.

"Nor is the minimum wage applicable to the occupation of women more than men. Women ought not to be employed in business, anyway. They were not when I was a boy here, and we were just as well off. If women did not do the work, the unemployed men of the country could find work. The natural way is for the men to work and take care of the women. Most girls who work expect to get married most any minute, anyway.

Socialism Will Die Out
"The growth of socialism does not alarm me. It will die out. It is like a lot of other isms we have had. We had the greenbackers. You can't find any now. We had the Millerites, who predicted the end of the world. They died out. So will socialism. It is simply another of those schemes for getting rich by legislation, and it can't last.

"The United States is not conservative, as a recent visitor to Milwaukee said. It is radical. I base that view on the large number of laws that are passed constantly—laws that are no good, because they are found to be unconstitutional. It is all wasted effort.

"England is really not so much more radical than the United States. Of course they are passing a lot of laws to that same end, of trying to get rich by law. It will all react in the end. It will drive out capital, and the country will suffer.

"One trouble with us in meeting problems is that we do not go at the source of the trouble. Take a conspicuous example. The United States will not enlist a consumptive in the army. But it will permit one consumptive to marry another, and rear a family of consumptives.

Would Bar Unfit From Marriage

"Certain qualifications should be required of people about to marry, and the marriage of the unfit should be prohibited. One need only to look at the increase of asylums and poorhouses in this country to be convinced of that."

Mr. Underwood declared the chances of making great private fortunes in the United States are gone. "One can found a great fortune—that is all. The opportunities have disappeared from natural causes. It is no longer possible to accumulate such a fortune at Rockefeller has.

There are no great natural resources left like those the Standard Oil fortune was built on.

"There is but one way to make a huge fortune. That opportunity lies in the field of invention. If one could invent some engine that would save fuel, or be more efficient, or be indispensable, perhaps there might be an enormous fortune in it.

"No question of morality is, or ever was involved in the big fortunes, such as were made by Rockefeller or Carnegie."

He praised Milwaukee's harbor plans and the Nonpartisan plan of municipal government. He declared the business outlook good.

"The Erie road is planning to double track, and to reduce its grades," he said. "The way for railroads to reduce the casualty lists, due to accidents, is by adopting slower schedules, using better appliances, enacting laws fixing the responsibility.

"A railroad employee whose neglect causes a wreck should be held responsible. In a few days two accidents have occurred. In one the engineer was killed. In the other the engineer escaped, but nothing will be done. He will go free, however great his responsibility."

Mme. Mille's Beauty Hints

(From the Journal of Fashion)

"No woman who prizes true beauty will neglect her eyebrows and eyelashes. Brushing the eyebrows trains them to grow arch-shaped and applying pyroxin will make them grow thick and silky. Pyroxin applied to roots will make the lashes grow long and silky.

"To keep the skin clear, smooth, fair and pliant, use a simple complexion beautifier made by dissolving an original package of mayatone in a half-pint of witch hazel. Gently massage face, neck and arms with this and you will escape freckles, tan and sunburn. It prevents that 'shiny' look and will not rub off or show like powder, while it gives a lovely, soft and youthful complexion.

"Any person desiring abundant, glossy hair should use a dry shampoo frequently. Mix four ounces of powdered orris root with an original package of therox and sprinkle a teaspoonful of this mixture on the head and brush it thoroughly through the hair. Therox makes the hair light and fluffy, and beautifully lustrous.

"Paste made by mixing water with a little powdered delatone and applied to a hairy surface will remove every trace of superfluous hair or fuzz. Leave the paste on a minute or two, then remove and wash the surface. This treatment is safe, sure and speedy and leaves the skin hairless, firm and smooth."

ENFORCE NEW LAW

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Secretary of the Interior Fisher today began enforcement of the new home-stead law, approved by President Taft on June 6, reducing the area of required cultivation where the entrymen needed relief from difficult conditions of the land.

When a boy begins to state his side of the case he is accused of "talking back."

CHANGES HER MIND AT LAST MINUTE

ST. PAUL, July 19.—Just as she was asked to be true and loyal to George Monahan, before Court Commissioner Gallick in the city hall, Nellie Harris repented her promise to wed and threw the wedding ring from her finger and walked out of the office. She didn't stop to say goodbye nor did she say why she was leaving. She had changed her mind.

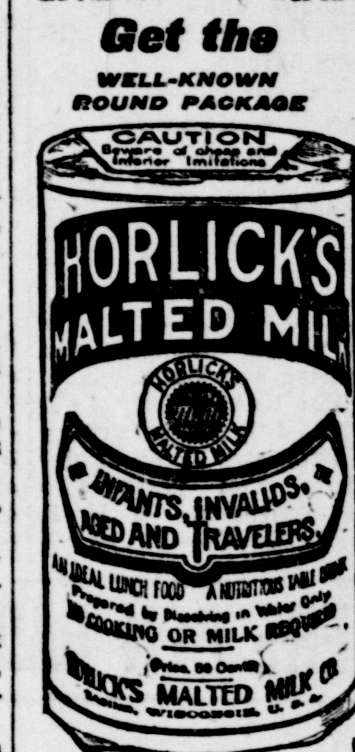

Mr. Monahan had already answered the judge that he was ready to be true to his bride-to-be, but when the officials turned to her, the woman decided she wasn't ready to marry and refused to answer the question which would have made her a wife. Despite the appeal of the groom that was-to-have-been, she turned on her heel and went home.

WANT AMPHITHEATER FOR U. S. CEMETERY

WASHINGTON, July 19.—A new amphitheater in the National cemetery at Arlington will probably be christened on Memorial day of 1915. Members of the G. A. R. are responsible largely for agitating the plan to build the new amphitheater, which is to replace a faded dilapidated wooden structure, which has done service for thirty years.

Of white marble, the new amphitheater, as planned by a special commission, will seat 5,000 persons, including room for 250 to 300 on the stage, or platform. Part of the amphitheater will be unroofed, as is the present building.

Patriotic societies holding services at Arlington are expected to use the building, in addition to the annual decoration day ceremonial.

Most Important Razor Sale La Crosse Has Ever Known—While they last, 3,000 $5.00 Style Durham Duplex Razors will be sold in La Crosse at 35c each. This means any man possessing 35c and this coupon can have one of these $5 Style Duplex Safety Razors equipped with double-edge blade, ready for use. The only Long Blade Diagonal Stroke Razor Made.

ISN'T IT WORTH
35c
TO CUT YOUR BARBER BILL
$25.00 A YEAR?

There are only two kinds of SAFETY RAZORS made—the Durham Duplex and the others.

THE DURHAM-DUPLEX STYLE

Safety Razor is really in a class by itself. It has all the perfect long blade razor points, in fact it is simply perfection. It's more than a safety razor—it's the old fashioned long blade with all the Safety Razor features.

The ordinary safety razor merely scrapes off the beard—because you cannot apply the diagonal stroke. The Durham Duplex CUTS the beard because you get the same diagonal stroke you are so used to using in your OLD STYLE LONG BLADE RAZOR.

No face cutting—blood stopping annoyances if you use a Durham Duplex—it makes shaving a pleasure not a dread—you smile while you shave.

IT'S THE DIAGONAL STROKE

That makes the one best razor buy.

99 out of every 100 men who shave prefer the good old-fashioned razor, because they can get the diagonal stroke and the right angle, the stroke that cuts the beard without scraping the face.

But it's the fear of cutting the face that has driven so many to use the new fangled hoe-shaped safety—the ones that scrape.

The Durham Duplex Style

Combines the good points in all razors without a single fault. You can use it when the light is poor and while traveling on a train without any thought of fear of cutting yourself. It will shave you better, closer and faster than any other safety, and without irritating the skin. And its simplicity makes it easy to clean. Please think what the Durham Duplex Style means to you.

WHY 3,000 ARE SOLD AT A LOSS

You can easily estimate the loss on 3,000 razors at 35c each, it may seem ridiculous to you—nevertheless it is our way of advertising the unexcelled features of the Durham Duplex.

Every man that secures one of these razors will always use one. He will be a booster and tell his friends to buy nothing but the Durham. You will buy extra blades—your friends will buy extra blades. Your friends' friends will be boosters—this in our opinion is cumulative advertising.

Day of Local Playgrounds
to Be Held at High School Track

The second inter-playground track and field meet will be held at the high school track tomorrow afternoon and evening. Entries closed Wednesday night at the various playgrounds and judging from the number of those received, the meet promises to be an even greater success than that held at Copeland playground last Saturday.

The track at the high school is in much better condition than the new one on the north side and it is expected that not a few records will be broken. Entries have been received to the number of 120, which is 12 more than what was received last week for the first meet.

The meet is divided into two parts: one part, comprising the Midgets and Boys running in the afternoon, the other part comprising the Juniors and Seniors, in the evening. Midgets and boys must be on the field ready to compete at 2:30, Juniors and Seniors at 7:00.

Classification of men is as follows: Midgets, 85 pounds and under. Boys, 86 to 115 pounds inclusive. Juniors, 116 to 130 pounds inclusive. Seniors, 130 pounds and upwards.

An athlete will be weighed in athletic costume minus shoes. The scales will be set at the weight specified for each class, and any competitor raising the beam so that it touches above shall be ineligible to compete. Athletes found to be too heavy for the class in which they enter will not be allowed to compete in any other class.

No man will be allowed to go in more than three events and the relay.

The events for the various classes follow:

Preserving the Beaver.
The efforts to prevent the extermination of the beaver in the Adirondacks have been so successful that there are now more than twenty large beaver colonies on the Raquette river alone, and there is fear of serious damage to popular timber through the activities of the busy little fellows.

Sparrow Travels 3,000 Miles.
The most interesting traveler that came to port yesterday was a perky English sparrow that flew aboard the steamship Austrian Prince in Newcastle, England, and made the 3,000-mile voyage to this country in the rigging. Captain Davies said the bird flew down to the deck for its food and at night perched on the girders of the stokehole, where it was warm.

Lovers' Tokens.
Spanish lovers present their fiancées with fans on which they have written the most impassioned poetry, embroidered garters with love mottoes woven in silk, and innumerable boxes of sweets. Engagement rings are not given, the bride-elect receiving instead a gold medal, which she wears suspended from a chain round her neck.

New York's Seal.
The figures on the seal of the city of New York refer to the trades in which the early settlers engaged. The beavers were used as early as 1645, for the trade in beaver skins was an important industry from the colony's beginning. In 1686 the flour trade had become important also, so the windmills and barrels were added to typify that occupation.

Equivalent in Every Respect of University at Madison Offered at Normal School

MANY YOUNG MEN ATTEND

Expect Enrollment of Male Students to Reach 150 This Year; Leads in Athletics

With the first two years of a university course at their very doors, the citizens of La Crosse and vicinity are offered special educational opportunities for their children, due to the recent strengthening of the college courses at the La Crosse state normal school. By legislative enactment, the La Crosse school is compelled to offer two full years of college work, including the first two years of the college of letters and science; the first two years of the course in commerce; two year courses preparatory to law or journalism; the first year of the engineering course, and 66 credits in the college of agriculture. This work is the full and fair equivalent of the freshman and sophomore work at the University of Wisconsin and will receive full credit there.

Advantages to La Crosse and Vicinity
As a result of this arrangement, the citizens of this part of the state are offered the following advantages:1. It is a matter of no small economy to keep a young man, or woman, of this part of the state in school near his home and save the expense incidental to board, room and other outlays required of those who go from home to college or university.
2. It offers the best possible training for subsequent college or university work. Students in normal schools usually get a training in methods of study, in habits of persistent application and sustained effort that the colleges seldom attempt to give. For this reason it usually happens that the students of junior or senior standing making the best record in college are those who have done their first two years of work in some good normal school.
3. In the third place, and perhaps of greatest importance, is the fact that a student doing his first two years of college work in a school at home may continue during that time to have most of the advantages and safeguards of the home. Parents who know the difficulty a young man has in rightly using the increased liberty and freedom given him on going from home to a great university will appreciate this opportunity. Every young student needs the moral guidance of the home as much as the intellectual advantages of a good school. The more nearly the two can be secured, the closer is the approach to an ideal student environment.Normal Courses for Teachers

Besides the college courses, the school at La Crosse offers two year courses in Latin, German, French or English for high school graduates who are planning to teach. The completion of any one of these courses entitles the student to a life diploma, permitting him to teach for life in the public schools of the state without examination. Graduates of these courses are also admitted to junior standing in the University.

The Two Year Country School Course

The school also offers a two year country school course for graduates of the common schools, the completion of which entitles the student to teach for three years in the country schools, without examination.

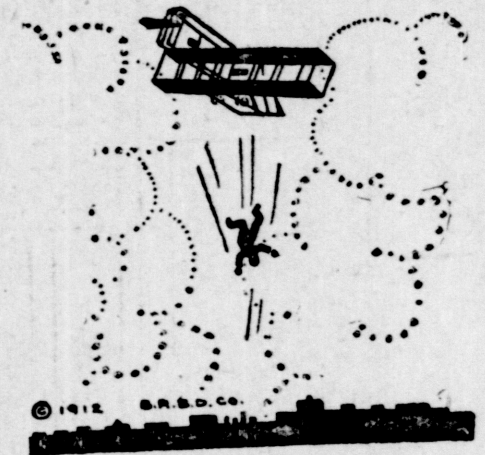

Many Men Enrolled in School

Since the charge is so often made that the normal schools are almost completely feminized, the residents of western Wisconsin are fortunate in having a school like the La Crosse institution near them. More than 100 young men were enrolled in that school during the year just closed and the president expects the enrollment to reach 150 the coming year. On account of this exceptional number of young men, the school has maintained successful football, basketball and baseball teams; winning teams in debate; it holds the state oratorical championship; it supports an orchestra; one of the leading school papers in the state, and other college activities. A fine athletic field has just been completed for the use of students and a physical instructor has been employed for the coming year to look after the men exclusively.

Young Women in School

The young women find opportunities for literary work as well as in the different organizations of the school. One of the strongest Young Women's Christian associations in any normal school helps to make the life of the young women pleasant and homelike. The members try in every way to make the new students feel at home and will meet them at the train when they come to La Crosse if requested. The young women have literary societies, musical organizations, athletics, etc. They also have a physical instructor to look after their needs exclusively.

The fall term opens September 3, 1912. Catalogues will be sent upon request. For further particulars, address the president, Fasset A. Cotton, La Crosse, Wis.

DOERFLINGER'SPLAN A BARGAIN SALE ARE OLD AT THE GAME*GOVERNMENT TO SELL MACHINES USED IN DIGGING CANAL FOR WHAT THEY WILL BRING*JUDGES WHO WILL PASS ON STOCK AT STATE FAIR ARE MEN OF EXPERIENCE IN THEIR LINES

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The biggest bargain sale of machinery in history is promised upon the completion of the Panama canal. To dispose of machinery costing more than $15,000,000 is the problem confronting government authorities when the canal is opened.

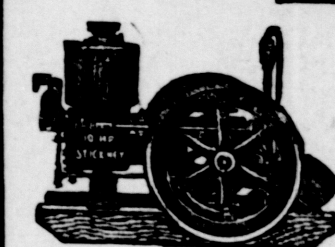

Although understood in a general way, Colonel Goethals, superintendent of the canal work, reports actual figures of machinery bought since the United States began digging the "big ditch." Here are a few of the principal items:

Steam shovels, 102; cars, 4,181; locomotives, 189; rock drills, 725; cranes, 79; dredges, 14; barges, 44. Many of the locomotives and cars will be used in operating the canal and the Panama railroad, but most of the dredges, steam shovels and mountains of other steel implements will be put on the block for sale.

Secretary of the Interior Fisher has suggested the plan of transferring much of the discarded machinery to Alaska for use in constructing a government railroad to the interior of that territory. If congress does not authorize the federal railway in Alaska, however, most of the Panama machinery will be sold for the best price it will bring.

Colonel Goethals emphatically declares, however, that the French plan of leaving discarded machinery to rot and rust will not be adopted by this country. Uncle Sam is too thrifty. Old, corroded, discarded machinery once used by the French in their attempt to dig a canal were monuments of their failure, lining the canal route until the Americans took charge. Some of the old French material was used, but most dumped into the jungle far away from the excavations.

Talk isn't always cheap; it often costs a man a black eye.

Stickney Gasoline Engines ARE THE BESTDon't Try It
